Red Rice's.

RED RICE'S—LOS ANGELES, THURSday, March 12. It's always good policy to buy where you can have the greatest variety to select from, especially when you can buy cheaper at such a place than at any other place in the State. Reader, such a place is Red Rice's. Nowhere else will you find such a wondrous variety; at no other place can they or will they sell as cheaply. See those nobby solid oak secretaries, with bookcase combined—it seems to us there never was so nice a piece of furniture sold for so little money, save at Red Rice's. What do you say to a good Steinway piano for $75; a fine bed-lounge for $11, new and perfect. Lots of pretty lamps at Red Rice's now; a solid ash bedroom set for $12 at Red Rice's today; how would you like a nice desk for $10—that's the price at Red Rice's; yes, and there are thousands upon thousands of other articles, beautiful and useful. Verily, it will pay you to visit RED RICE'S BAZAAR; it is at 143 and 145 S. Main st.

ANOTHER BALLOT.

A Vote on Senator Taken in Joint Session.

Cal State Library 1892

It Results in a Scatter—Boodlers Awaiting the Sack.

Gov. Markham Signs the Glenn County Bill and Gives His Reasons.

The Evidence in the Bruner Case Closed for the Prosecution—The Defense Offering Testimony.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—[Special.] The slight change in the vote on the Senatorship today made it apparent that the boodlers have determined to have coin as the only argument which will induce them to change from the dummies for whom they vote to some possible candidate. The aspirants have a fear of detection, which is stronger than any moral sense, but the hungry and thirsty scoundrels who have been selling their votes all winter, stand ready to to take all chances of exposure and the penitentiary to get a bribe. As yet they seem insensible to the threatenings of the coming storm of popular indignation, and have determined to stand by their confederate Bruner.

It is difficult tonight to predict anything except that there is great danger that some of the candidates will not be able to withstand the demand for money, which will be coupled with the promise of votes. There is danger that the State will have the additional disgrace of another sale of the Senatorship.

The Governor alone stands up before the mighty flood of corruption, but it is so deep around him that he cannot prevent all of it, because he can not know where all of it is hidden. Today he signed the Glenn county bill, but it is not an assurance that he will sign the Riverside bill.

JAYHAWKER.

IN JOINT SESSION.

Only One Ballot Taken for United States Senator.

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The Legislature met in joint session at 12:25 today. Speaker Coombs announced that nominations for United States Senator were in order. There was an effort made to shut off nomination speeches, and Mr. Matlock moved to limit speeches to five minutes. There was no second, and the president declined to entertain the motion.

Mr. Coombs then took the floor to nominate Estee. He said that Estee came from no particular section of California, but represented all the people of this great commonwealth. His interest was equally divided between the citrus lands of the South, the agricultural lands of the North, the mines of the East and the great commerce of the West.

Mr. Bledsoe nominated Nestor A. Young of San Diego.

Senator Fraser nominated Mr. Blanchard of Eldorado.

Mr. Dibble nominated M. H. De Young. He said he had voted for Senator Stanford because he believed in him, but now he believed in electing a man who did not agree with Stanford in every particular. "De Young is not a railroad man," he said, "and I believe in electing him for that reason."

Mr. Galbraith nominated Charles N. Felton. He reviewed Felton's career, told of his official life in Washington and his high character as a man.

Mr. Matlock nominated Gen. Chipman. He declared his candidate to be true and tried. The president then ordered the roll called. The Senate was called first. Senator Berry was not present, consequently there were but thirty-nine votes cast among the Senators. The ballot resulted:

For Estee—Bailey, Byrnes, Campbell of Solano, Campbell of Siskiyou, Carpenter, Flint, Heacock, McComas, McGowan, Ragsdale, Shippee, Sprague—12.

For De Young—Broderick, Dargie, Maher, George H. Williams—4.

For Felton—Banks, Crandall, Delong, Everett, Mahoney, Simpson, Streeter—7.

For Blanchard—Fraser, Preston, Voorhies—3.

For Coleman—W. H. Williams—1.

For Goucher—Britt, Hamill, Harp, Langford, Meade, Ostrom, Seawell, Welch, Wilson—9.

For William Johnston—Denison, Dray—2.

THE ASSEMBLY VOTE.

In the Assembly Mr. Bruner nominated William Johnston, formerly Senator from this county. He was desirable as a farmer of forty years experience and high in the councils of the National Grange.

Mr. Fowler nominated Charles A. Wetmore, the viticulturist.

Mr. Gould nominated Senator Goucher of Fresno.

The roll call of the Assembly resulted:

For Estee—Ames, Barnett of Sonoma, Bert, Bryant, Carghill, Culver, Durner, Harloe, Hawley, Lewis, Murphy, Smith of Butte, Smith of Orange, Sturtevant, Weston, Coombs, Estee—17.

For De Young—Alexander, Barnett of San Francisco, Coffey, Daley, Dennis, Dibble, Dow, Glynn, Hayes, Hoey, Johnson, Jones, Lowe, Lux, Marion, Phillips, Steltz, Tennis, Tully, Windrow—20.

For Felton—Carter, Galbraith, Gordon, Hersey, Lacey, Young—6.

For Chipman—Hale and Matlock—2.

For Johnson — Bruner, McCall, Beecher—3.

For Nestor A. Young—Bledsoe and Kellogg—2.

For Blanchard — Barnard, Baughman, Brown, Freeman, Hocking, Hunewill, Lynch—7.

For Wetmore—Fowler—1.

For Goucher—Arms, Cunningham, Doty, Eakle, Garver, Gould, Jackson, Martin, Matthews, Mordecai, Murnan, Renfroe, Rice, Robertson, Shanahan, Stabler—16.

For Morrow—Wentworth, Clarke—2.

For Perkins—Cram—1.

For Coleman—Dunn—1.

The Senate did not change its vote yesterday. In the Assembly Estee gains four votes and De Young two. Two of Estee's votes were cast by Messrs. Bryant and Cargill, who were absent yesterday and Arms and Culver deserted Perkins and voted for Estee. Johnston and Alexander voted for Blanchard yesterday. Today they went to De Young. These were the only changes.

The joint convention adjourned until tomorrow noon.

SENATE AND ASSEMBLY.

The Ballot Reform Bill Sent to the Governor.

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—The Senate concurred in the Assembly amendments to the Ballot Reform Bill, and it now goes to the Governor.

Assembly.—In the Assembly on the effort to pass the claim of Col. Stevenson for $2670 over the veto of the Governor, a call of the House was ordered. Defeated.

The bill regulating paid fire departments in cities passed. Mr. Everett gave notice of reconsideration.

The bill preventing the dealing in options was called up. The bill was passed over the veto.

The Assembly held a night session and read a great number of bills on file a first and second time.

The bill appropriating money for the World's Fair exhibition from the general fund of each county was passed. Counties of the first-class can appropriate $50,000, counties of the second, third, fourth and fifth not to exceed $40,000 and all others not to exceed $7000.

The bill creating the office of attorney for the State Board of Health was read a second time. A majority of the bills read on the urgency file tonight are to pay claims against the State.

THE BRUNER CASE.

Testimony for the Prosecution Closed—The Defense Opened.

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The case against Assemblyman Bruner was concluded tonight. Several witnesses were examined and testimony showing that the Jones brothers had offered to secure positions on the police force for several men, was heard. The Examiner attempted to prove that Bruner had sold his salary warrants for the whole session, but the testimony was not allowed.

Bruner's case was then opened and Senator Maher testified that Bruner had asked him to use his influence in securing a position on the force for a friend in San Francisco.

E. B. Reed, Recorder of San Francisco, was the next witness. Reed is the man who requested Bruner to use his influence to get a friend of his on the force. Reed produced a letter he had sent to Bruner making the request.

Ex-Judge Armstrong of Sacramento said that on Tuesday of last week he met Bruner in the corrider of the Capitol. Bruner said to him that the Examiner reporters were trying to trap him in relation to the police bill. He said: "But they will not do it." They were interrupted at the time and held no further conversation about the matter. Later Alvin Bruner, Ellwood Bruner's brother, talked to him about the same matter.

W. M. Govan, an employé of Wells Fargo & Co., was next called. He was present when the money transaction took place in the State Library. He said he saw Bruner come in with a check and heard him say "Now I've got the ——— ———." He seemed to be greatly excited.

With this witness the committee adjourned till tomorrow night.

CALLING A CAUCUS.

An Estee Scheme to Which De Young Men Take Kindly.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The Chronicle's Sacramento special says: Senator Sprague of Yolo, who is one of the most active in the Estee fight, has circulated a call for a joint caucus tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The expressed object of the caucus was to discuss the political matters now before the Legislature. This, of course, was understood to mean the Senatorial situation, and it was evidently expected by the advocates of the move that the other candidates would not consent. The De Young men, Dargie, Maher, Broderick and George H. Williams signed with such alacrity that the promoters of the caucus took alarm and the first Senator on the list, Senator Heacock of Santa Barbara, scratched off his name.

The De Young men all stood firm, however, and will go into the caucus tomorrow morning if the necessary number of legislators can be obtained. Twenty Senators have signed, but some of these wrote opposite their names the word "informal," to show that they did not consider the caucus as binding.

Speaker Coombs circulated a similar call in the Assembly, but the members of the lower house took less kindly to it, and at a late hour tonight the paper is making the rounds in quest of signatures. Those who have appended their names have taken care that it shall be known that they regard the caucus as informal.

APPROVED.

The Glenn County Bill Signed by the Governor.

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Markham has sent a message to the Assembly approving the bill to divide Colusa county and create the county of Glenn. The Governor in his message says:

While I am opposed to county division on principle and believe it to be a bad practice, as a rule, I approve this measure for the purpose of putting an end to the fierce contests between two portions of a county which have developed into a feud; but principally for the reason that three continuous Legislatures have considered this matter and two have passed it.

WILLOWS, March 11.—The news of the signing of the Glenn County Bill by the Governor was received at noon today. Since that time there has been a cessation of business, all combining in a grand celebration. The ringing of bells, blowing of whistles, firing of cannon, bands playing and speaking at halls show the appreciation of the victory by the people.

Dr. Windthorst, the German Clerical Leader, Dangerously Ill—The Newfoundland Fisheries Dispute to be Arbitrated.

By Telegraph to The Times.

DUBLIN, March 11.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Timothy Harrington has sent to Freeman's Journal a letter signed by Archbishop Logue on behalf of the Irish bishops to Parnell, dated October 15, 1890, on the eve of the O'Shea divorce trial.

In this letter the Archbishop states that at a meeting of bishops it was resolved to maintain and strengthen the relations between the clergy and Parnellites; that the clergy relied upon Mr. Parnell's prudence, foresight and influence with the party to remove disquieting abuse.

Harrington's aim in publishing the letter is to show that the bishops did not declare against Parnell on moral grounds until after the appearance of Gladstone's letter.

Michael Davitt, Mr. Dusy, Mr. David Sheedy have been appointed secretaries of the national federation, and Murphy and Webb treasurers.

WILL EXHIBIT.

France and Turkey Preparing for the World's Fair.

PARIS, March 11.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] At a meeting of the Chamber of Deputies a committee was appointed to consider in what manner the merchants of France can be best represented at the Chicago World's Fair. After carefully examining and discussing the law authorizing the exhibition, and after studying the rules and regulations of the United States World's Fair Commission, paying particular attention to the customs and arrangements which it was proposed to make in order to enable foreign exhibitors to pass their exhibits through the United States Custom House, the committee decided that it was advisable to ask a modification of the regulations mentioned. Further details upon the whole question will also be asked for and must be received before the Chamber of Deputies Committee will ask a credit from the Chamber for the representation of France at the fair.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 11.—United States Minister Solomon Hirsch has delivered a formal invitation of the United States, asking Turkey to be represented at the World's Fair. It is believed the Porte will accept, but some time must elapse before an official reply will be given to the invitation.

Dried Fruits in New York.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Some commission merchants say fair quantities of California evaporated apricots and peaches have been sold during the past two days. There are expectations of a better market before the end of the month. Choice unpeeled peaches went for 17 cents to 18 cents in bags according to size of lots. Apricots sold for 15 cents to 16 cents in sacks and 16½ cents to 17½ cents in boxes. The current low prices serve to help the distribution of raisins in some degree. Current quotations are on a line with prices of last week.

VITRIOL THROWERS.

A Gang of the Murderous Strikers Arraigned.

NEW YORK, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Tombs Police Court today were arraigned Joseph Barondess and twelve Russian cloakmakers, who were arrested late last night for attacking Herman Greenbaum and his family at Jamaica, L. I. Monday night, when Mrs. Greenbaum was brutally assaulted and her son burned with vitriol. The prisoners were handcuffed together and taken to Long Island City.

When arraigned at Jamaica the leader of the party, Barondess, denied that he had any connection with the outrage. The police, however, assert that he has been positively identified as the man who bought the vitriol. The accused men were all remanded this afternoon.

Inspector Byrnes called all the police captains to headquarters and talked with them at length about the many outrages that have been committed by the Polish and Bohemian striking cloakmakers. He said a man who resorted to the use of vitriol was a beast and should be dealt with as such. The inspector added that interference with work or workers by organized labor in this city must absolutely cease and at once. The captains must use the utmost vigilance to prevent any further outrages, and will be held to the strictest accountability. Safeguards must be given all working cloakmakers, and if necessary safe conduct to and from their homes. The police, he said, must protect citizens against lawbreakers, and if necessary, the most rigid measures would be resorted to.

THE BANKERS.

Reception at the City Hall Last Evening.

THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT.

Mayor Hazard's Address of Welcome—Hon. E. F. Spence's Remarks—Interesting Paper by A. D. Childress.

Last evening the first Bankers' Convention ever held in California, or on the Pacific Coast, was convened in the Council chamber of the City Hall.

The gathering was called to order by George H. Stewart, secretary of the Los Angeles Clearing-house. It comprised a distinguished-looking set of gentlemen, who represented the great banking interests of the State. The Council chamber was well filled, and to the addresses delivered the closest attention was paid. The chamber had been decorated with bunting and presented a handsome appearance. The Los Angeles Orchestral Society discoursed sweet strains of music during the evening;

During the day a number of bankers arrived in the city. They were received informally by the Local Reception Committee,

THE CITRUS FAIR.

The Pavilion Again Crowded Last Evening.

ADDRESS BY GEN. CHIPMAN.

An Exhaustive Review of the Progress of Southern California—Additional Description of the Designs.

The citrus fair in Hazard's Pavilion is a success, and if one can judge from the immense crowds that have already visited the hall, the State Citrus Fair Association will take in more than double the sum of money taken in last year. Every section in Southern California, from Tulare to San Diego, is taking a a deep interest in the exhibit, and hundreds of people are crowding in from all quarters. There are fully ten thousand more people in the city than ever before, and it is safe to say that nine-tenths of the visitors are here to see the fair.

The doors were opened at 7:30 yesterday morning and were kept open until 11 o'clock last night. During the day 2500 tickets were sold at the box office, and it is estimated by the door-keepers that fully 5000 people passed in last night. They began to come in at 6 o'clock last night, and there was a perfect string of people coming and going all the evening.

The seats in both galleries were filled before 7 o'clock, and the main floor and first gallery seemed to be too small to contain the crowds. It is a great pity that there are not a few seats around the exhibits on the first floor for visitors, as hundreds of people get tired of walking around or standing, and go home before they have seen all that is to be seen.

The various displays that had not been complimented the opening night, looked much better last night, as the committees put in several hours working after the crowd left Tuesday night. Every display was in perfect order last night, and had it not been for the wild antics of the electric lights, which came near going out several times, there would have been no chance for complaint.

The musical programme by the Seventh Regiment band was up to the standard, and greatly assisted in filling out the evening entertainment.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the managers and a number of prominent citizens took their seats on the stage, and the committee escorted the speaker of the evening, Gen. N. P. Chipman, to the platform.

President Wells, in a few remarks, stated that Gen. Chipman delivered the opening address at the Northern citrus fair, and kindly consented to appear at the present fair.

The speaker was then introduced, and said:

GEN. CHIPMAN'S SPEECH.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen: I visited Los Angeles in the spring of 1880 and penetrated your desert wastes as far as Yuma and Tucson. Your suburbs exhibited vacant villas and neglected gardens; that tell-tale sign of stagnation and decay, "For Sale," posted here, there and everywhere, sent me back home more contented with my quiet country in the North than I came. I ought to have judged better of your merits. But why should I have been wiser than you yourselves? Why should I, with my ignorance of your country, have had greater prevision than you who had grown up here? Your faith was not made manifest by your works; indeed, you had no faith. Your vast flocks of cattle and sheep, now and then a year, were almost annihilated by drouth, and from a like cause your fields of grain withered before fruitage. Large Mexican grants of naturally rich and fertile soils were on the market for a song, and the purchaser could choose the song and sing it himself.

It is different now. The natural waters have been checked in their wasteful flow to the sea and have been spread over the grateful earth, and by some mystical law your rainfall has apparently more than doubled. But I am speaking of the condition as I found it.

Eyes you had, but you saw not the breaking of the coming day; ears you had, but you heard not the triumphal song whose awakening strains were being borne along by the mild air through your orange trees and among the multitudinous foliage of your olive orchards and your incomparable tropical verdure, planted and cultivated with aimless and indefinite purpose. The doors of Paradise stood ajar, and all the gods beckoning, and you would not enter.

And yet you were at that moment the center of one of the grandest movements of population, and the most unexpected and persistent material development, soon to stir a continent, ever witnessed in any country. The golden days of '49 were to be repeated in many of their unique features: only the genius of a high civilization was to preside over all, in place of the rude, untutored, yet ruggedly honest spirit that guided the Argonauts. They came to dig and go away; you came to upbuild and stay!

Marshall upheld to the sun the glittering nugget of gold accidentally picked up in Sutter's mill-race, and its shining surface flashed around the globe and started a heterogeneous mass of all peoples to this Coast; but not to build a State—not to discover the perennial wealth of her soil and climate. This was a sealed book to them, to be opened by you.

Unlike that romantic crusade, your movement meant the betterment of man; it meant the transformation of the products of the soil from unremunerative to richly paying pursuits; it meant the realization of the highest aspirations of the agriculturist; it meant the demonstration that all over your fair land, by the ordinary processes of husbandry, results were attainable which intensive farming could not elsewhere accomplish; it lifted a noble calling out of the severe drudgery and hopeless and ill-requited toil that attended it elsewhere; it softened the horny hand, made callous by unremitting labor, and changed and elevated and ennobled and enlarged the farmer, enslaved by the exacting demands of rigorous and forbidding environments. He found himself in the midst of an ideal life; the world to him had new charms; he planted and soon began to see the fruits of his industry taking a new value that was to increase year by year and become a rich inheritance to his children and children's children. He saw in this balmy south land the paradise that was to fit him for the glories of that only other more beautiful and more attractive home—that celestial palace not made by hands, eternal in the heavens.

It was a grand convocation of the very élite of the United States, who rushed here to possess this Eden and compel you to unlock its gates and join with them in uncovering to the world the hidden treasures of climate and soil nowhere else to be found outside of California in any one subdivision of the earth's surface.

This gorgeous picture spread before these assembled people portrays the triumph of that migration to which I have referred. I shall not, however, belittle the true meaning of your progress during the past decade by speaking of this magnificent display as the realization of all you have striven to attain. You have brought the orange to a state of perfection unknown before you grew oranges; you have added by your orange groves largely to the present wealth of your region; you have made it a taking card, both as a thing of beauty and a source of profit; it has come to be the exponent of climate. You send to the East and elsewhere, by rail, of this delightful fruit nearly or quite three thousand carloads annually, and that means a great deal of money. But I still insist that, while orange-growing will always be remunerative here, and will always be a great attraction, your other products will be a greater source of wealth, and your permanent greatness must rest upon your diversified agriculture and your other orchard products, which promise to you untold riches and all the population that should occupy this goodly land.

Gen. Chipman then paid a high tribute to the climate of the Pacific Coast, referring to "California as a favored land, and the south as her Evangel," saying:

It has been hard to convince the people of the East and West that we enjoy this exceptional immunity from cold. We ourselves were slow to discover its wonderful economic value. I think I do not disparage the intelligence of other parts of the State when I frankly avow that this great discovery come to be generally acknowledged through the efforts of the people south of Tehachepi. The evangel of California's true greatness resided in the South. From the North I come now to the South to thank you in the name of all California for having unveiled the treasures that lay slumbering and hidden in this land of the gods.

We have held five successive annual citrus fairs, each finer than its predecessor, and orange-growing at the North as a profitable industry, is no longer doubted among intelligent men of the South.

You builded better than you knew. You first fixed a limited area, with Los Angeles as the focal point, in which the greatness of California was to reside. Dreams of a separate empire floated through the brains of some of your enthusiasts. On you went, conquering and to conquer, until the current literature of the East had blotted out nearly every name from our map except Los Angeles, Riverside and San Diego. The spirit of selfishness took hold of illiberal minds North and South, and a crusade of detraction and misrepresentation was opened, and truth for a time was hidden. The South caricatured the North, and the North slandered and withheld just praise from the South. But under all was an intense common love for the State and her traditions and history, and out of all has been evolved a greater catholicity of feeling and a better and higher conception of our great destiny. We of the North have come to appreciate how you have lifted California to a high place among the States of the earth, and you have come to appreciate that we of the North are worthy to stand beside you on the same plane in a common struggle to exalt our beloved commonwealth.

Mr. President, the inexorable logic of economic facts points to California as the home of many millions of people. Your country is very large; it possesses high merit; it will hold many people, but not all who are to come to California: some must go elsewhere. It would be a pity if the spirit of discontent were to pervade all who cannot stop here. I have come to give you the comfortable assurance that there is a region many hundred miles long North of you where great possibilities reside, and where nearly the same tropical luxuriance may be enjoyed, as I see so lavishly and so beautifully spread around me here.

I am not here to make invidious comparisons. I must not violate the laws of hospitality. I dare not tell you how grand a country we have up north; I do not want to arouse the demon of unrest among you.

I am reluctantly prepared to admit that you have a little more climate to the square acre than we, but not so much more as difference in latitude would indicate to the uninformed.

Gen. Shipman then referred at length to "the boom," conceding that Southern California was still preëminent, and giving interesting statistics in support of his position. The speaker continued as follows:

Your prosperity and advancement are attested by that unfailing guide, increased population and increased assessable wealth. What do these show? I will take three counties only:

County.	Pop. 1880.	Pop. 1890.	Ass'd val. 1880.	Ass'd val 1890.
Los Angeles.	33,381	101,410	$16,368,649	$69,475,025
San Bern'd'o.	7,766	25,486	2,576,973	22,490,410
San Diego....	8,618	34,876	3,625,258	30,118,593

Consider how San Diego has forged forward in the last five years.

1885, 50,000 fruit trees; 1890, 500,000.

1885, 1,000 acres vines; 1890, 5,000 acres.

1885, $6,900,000 assessable property; 1890, $30,118,533.

I wish I could march the sluggards of the North through your beautiful cities and towns and orchards and vineyards, and show them what pluck and energy and enterprise have done down here. I believe they would go home, as I shall, with greater faith in our common destiny, and with fresh inspiration to develop our own beautiful country.

While I must from necessity confine my illustrations to few of your counties, it is but just to say that all have felt the stimulating influence of your upward movement.

San Luis Obispo has nearly doubled her population since 1880, and has more than doubled her assessable property.

Santa Barbara's 9000 in 1880 have gone to 15,000 in 1890, and her $5,000,000 assessable property have expanded to $14,000,000.

And don't let us forget Ventura—that snug, little, compact county of splendid possibilities and present importance—born in 1874, and just reaching majority—a population of 5000 in 1880, of whom 40 per cent. were Spaniards, she now has over ten thousand, of whom less than 10 per cent. are Spanish; she has increased her $2,000,000 of assessable property to $7,000,000 (I give round numbers,) and she is gradually retiring her wheat, corn and barley and bringing the more profitable fruit products to the front.

That aspiring young county of Orange must also be placed on your roll of honor. Struck from the brain of your Jove, proud Los Angeles, she steps out into the arena with courageous and self-reliant mein, and, like Richard III, was born with teeth. From Anaheim alone there were shipped last season over fifteen hundred carloads of produce.

Riverside, another example of your development, to my mind is a phenomenon; and yet it is a type of your advancement. When we consider what it was a few years ago, the transformation seems the result of the shifting scene of a theater. It portrays in a larger degree the union of the beautiful and the profitable, than any other like area, I think, in the world. The hard lines of agriculture are here softened and mellowed into the realization of the poet's dream.

There are some of these places approaching, but not equalling Riverside, to the north of that awful chasm—the Tehachepi—that divides us. I must not be drawn into the admission that all loveliness, and all that is praiseworthy, reside at the South.

But Riverside is the ideal which I hold up to all California for emulation, and as the best exemplication of intelligent and profitable horticulture, of good local government; of elevated social life, removed from metropolitan contact, anywhere to be found. The influence of such a place upon the civilization of a region is beyond computation.

I speak of this place particularly, because it was among, if it was not the first, to show what enterprise, intelligence and what a little money will do for a country; and, because in my belief, Southern California owes a large debt of gratitude to this community as pioneers of your successes.

At this place, comprising about 8300 acres—once a desert waste—now reside 6000 souls; out of a worthless sand dune has been created an assessed valuation of $4,588,890. Where only sagebrush grew and the jack rabbit was monarch of the little he surveyed, there was an output in 1889-90 of 426,463 boxes of oranges and 200,000 boxes of raisins, yielding a combined annual product of $1,500,000. I do not point out this splendid result as the best that has been done in the State, for at Vaca Valley, in Solano county, on a like area, with the deciduous fruits, and at Fresno and Santa Clara valleys equally high results have been attained; but it is Riverside as a type, as a creation of something out of nothing—as a speaking into existence Arcadia—a model little kingdom of its own—that challenges my love and makes me loth to cease talking about it.

The speaker then gave an exhaustive review of the progress of the northern part of the State, saying he could not return in peace if he accorded to Southern California all the advancement made in the State. He gave numerous statistics, and then followed with a glowing tribute to the glorious climate of California,

Gen. Chipman spoke at length on the adaptability of the State for olive culture, and pointed out the great future for this industry.

In regard to wheat-growing, Gen. Chipman said plainly that it did not pay, as compared with fruit-growing, and gave the following in illustration:

"Let me call Riverside and the great Glenn wheat ranch in Colusa county, to the stand. Riverside testifies to $1,500,000 from 8000 acres of land in oranges and raisins. The Glenn ranch testifies to 200,000 sacks of wheat, worth $300,000, from 42,000 acres of land. Riverside is not yet in full bearing, while the Glenn ranch is at its best. Riverside now produces five times as much from 8000 acres in fruit as Colusa county from 42,000 acres in wheat. One acre at Riverside has the productive capacity of twenty-five acres in Colusa county planted to wheat. And when you get away from wheat lands that are known to be profitable you enter a large area where the wheat-grower is becoming poorer and poorer every year. It is a very serious matter when we find the tillers of two millions of acres of land are barely holding their own, and many losing ground. I will not particularize further. There are laws at work against the wheat-grower in California, that he can't change, and there are conditions that are beyond his control. They have attracted the attention of the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, when brought into comparison with our fruit products, and he has warned our people against the folly of persisting in wheat culture to the extent we now plant."

In the matter of the overproduction of fruit, Gen. Chipman exploded the idea that there was any danger from that source, and gave figures to show that there was no necessity for years to come to worry about markets or overproduction, as we were now importing millions of pounds of foreign fruit.

The wine industry was treated briefly, the speaker claiming that California had a distinctive advantage in producing the finer varieties of foreign grapes, and declaring that our wines alone will be enough to make us a rich people.

Gen. Chipman closed his interesting and eloquent address in the following words:

I shall quit these inspiring scenes with a deeper love for my home, because you have taught me what may be made of that home. With grateful recollections of your hospitality, and of your people and your wonderful development, I shall return to that land where God has done so much, and man so little, more profoundly impressed than ever before, that, of the greatness and glory and grandeur of our commonwealth, like the glories of the New Jeruselem, the half has never been told; and that in that region, from Shasta to San Diego, lies a country soon to be occupied by many millions of happy, contented, prosperous people, bound togethe rby a common purpose; whose love for the American Union and the American flag, shall only be equaled by devotion to their beloved California.

THE DISPLAY.

Brief Sketches of Some of the Most Important Exhibits.

Following are brief sketches of the displays that were not treated of yesterday morning:

THE COURTHOUSE.

Probably the most attractive design on the grand stage is the miniature county Courthouse, which was designed and executed by the Ladies' Annex of the Chamber of Commerce, a full list of the names of whom appeared in these columns the other day. This is one of the neatest designs in the hall, and is a perfect image of the finest building in the State. The interior is brilliantly lighted up and the effect is very fine. Hundreds of people spent much of their time viewing this design last night and they were all profuse in praise of the ladies who got it up.

VERNON.

Vernon's display stands on the right of the stage. John Pirtle and Peter Stone designed the figures in this display, and a number of citizens of Vernon assisted in working out the designs. The display represents a packing-house, a half loaded car and express wagons loaded with boxes of oranges coming and going. There is also a cabin and a large orchard and beautiful grounds. This design was worked out by E. L. Hank. The packing-house is perfect, and miniature figures of men can be seen at work in the building. The whole display is set off with floral decorations.

POMONA.

The Pomona display is very plain, but the quality of fruit is probably better than in any display in the hall. The display is in charge of J. L. Howland, assisted by F. J. Smith, Charles L. Land, J. E. Packard, C. E. White and Frank Johnson.

The fruit, which consists of 250 boxes, is artistically arranged on a large stand and shows up in good style.

THE EAST ROOM.

The room just to the right of the main entrance contains several exhibits. There is quite a neat little display from Porterville, Tulare county, and the citrus fruits are fully as good as the fruits grown in this section. Rialto, Long Beach and Pasadena have displays in this room. Pasadena has a fine display of potted flowers, and a Long Beach display, which is in charge of F. H. Rogers, shows some citrus fruits that were grown within a few yards of the ocean,

THE WEST ROOM.

The room to the left of the main entrance is used as an office and reception room by the managers and officers of the fair. The reception room is handsomely fitted up and contains a sideboard where wines and other refreshments are served to distinguished visitors. In this room the various committees meet, and the judges hold their secret sessions whenever they have any business of a particularly tough nature to deal with.

THE WEST GALLERY.

The west gallery is devoted to San Diego and the ice-cream tables. San Diego has spent much time and money on her display, and in the language of the California girl, it is a daisy. San Diego county has eight stands, and a design of the lighthouse and Point Loma, showing the entrance to the harbor and several ships sailing on real water. The lighthouse gives a flash-light every half-minute, and the whole effect is grand. The committee in charge of this display is composed of R. N. Young, J. P. Jones, L. E. Allen and Mrs. Young. The display is made up of fourteen varieties of oranges and four varieties of lemons. J. P. Jones designed Point Loma and is very proud of his work.

THE EAST GALLERY.

The east gallery contains quite a number of small exhibits. There are soda-water booths, religious tract booths, the band stand and railroad advertising booths, on this floor.

The Boyle Heights display is quite attractive.

The ladies in charge of this display are Mrs. E. H. Workman and Miss Workman, Mrs. Samuel Rees and Miss Rees, Mrs. Judge McComas, Mrs. Dr. Harris, Mrs. J. F. Cook, Mrs. John Willey and Miss Willey, Mrs. Judge Variel, Mrs. Dr. Murphy, Mrs. Kellum and Mrs. Threlkeld. The names of the donors of fruit, flowers and shrubbery are Mrs. Hollenbeck, ex-Mayor Workman, Mrs. Harrison White, Mrs. Dr. Murphy, and Mrs. Kellum. Among the largest Navel oranges in the pavilion were those donated by Mrs. Kellum. The nursery plants were loaned by J. R. Hodges and A. M. Herbert & Co. nurserymen.

SANTA BARBARA.

The Santa Barbara display, which comes last but not least by any manner of means, has a place in the center of the main gallery, immediately over the entrance. The display covers more ground than any of them, and represents an immense tropical garden. Every variety of tropical fruits and plants are to be found in this display, and it has to be seen to be appreciated. It is in charge of the following committee: C. Eaton, Dr. Yates, Mrs. Ashly, Mrs. John Spence and Mr. Packard. Twenty-seven producers are represented in this display and everything grown under the sun, almost, is to be found in the garden.

GENERAL DECORATIONS.

The general decorations are very extensive. Tons of evergreens and flowers, and over two thousand yards of bunting were used by the managers in decorating the hall. The grand arch over the stage, which contains over one hundred and fifty boxes of oranges, was also designed by the fair managers.

The work was designed and carried out by the following people:

H. Jay Hanchette, superintendent; D. C. Willard, assistant superintendent; Frank Wiggins, assistant superintendent; J. D.

Stott, Carl Strong, D. C. Rowland, Charles Campbell, C. W. Strong, Charles Needham; carpenters, G. Perkins, foreman; F. O. Freeman, E. Arnalstein, Q. D. Newman, E. L. Thendell, W. Thingsburg, A. Cole, N. J. Stanton. The arch was built by McKillican and Morris, J. Allen, foreman, and I. S. Hass, architect.

THE GURNEY COMPANY.

The Gurney Cab and Express Company, with its characteristic enterprise, has an office and telephone in the building, on the main floor near the entrance, where visitors may order any sort of vehicle desired and be served promptly without the least apprehension that they will be overcharged when it comes to settling the bill. The company does business in a very business-like way. It has a fixed and reasonable scale of prices for service either by the mile or by the hour. Its charge for a gurney is 25 cents per mile for each passenger. By the hour it is 75 cents for one person or $1.00 for two or more. It publishes a handsome little pocket map of the city—the best of its kind to be had—and a glance at this shows the distance from the Courthouse to any given point. The passenger can do the "figuring" just as well as anybody. The gurney is in high favor in Los Angeles and deservedly so, for the business has been conducted in a really admirable manner.

NOTES.

The Relief Corps fed over three hundred people yesterday.

Beginning today, a grand promenade concert will be given every afternoon.

Mrs. John Spencer of Santa Barbara got up the palm design in the tropical garden.

San Diego and Pomona presented Frank Bartlett Relief Corps four boxes of oranges yesterday.

The Pasadena people are arranging to have a big time next Tuesday. They expect to have Gov. Markham and his staff down here.

Some of the city merchants have agreed to decorate their windows with fruit, to be furnished by the various localities represented in the fair.

Mr. Backus of Riverside will present all the orphans with oranges when they are admitted to the hall tomorrow between the hours of 10 a. m. and noon.

C. F. Eaton of Santa Barbara who was to deliver an address this evening was called away yesterday and cannot be here this evening. His address will be read.

Yesterday Assistant Superintendant Willard invited, by wire, the entire committee from Washington, D. C., that escorted the remains of the late Senator Hearst to San Francisco, to attend the fair.

S. J. Mathes, late manager of "California on Wheels," is trying to induce the managers and exhibitors to move the fair to San Francisco as soon as it closes, and place it in the Mechanic's Pavilion.

A dispatch was received from F. N. Marion yesterday, asking that the managers send photographs to him so that he may show them to members of the Legislature. Superintendent Hanchette sent an invitation to the Legislature to attend in a body if it adjourn in time.

The award of premiums will be announced this evening, with the exception of prizes for the most artistic designs. The committee on artistic designs could not agree yesterday and after taking a number of ballots, they gave up and resigned. A new committee was appointed last night, but their names will not be made public.

The following citizens of Ontario were in the city yesterday: G. T. Storum, A. D. More, C. H. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Oakley, Mrs. A. Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Dr. Sykes and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Penfield, Mrs. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Purvis, Mr. and Mrs. Trask, Mr. and Mrs. Croft, Mr. and Miss Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. Elcott, Mrs. Tracy and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Harwood.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

The New Engine House—The Fire Alarm System.

The Fire Commissioners met in the Mayor's office yesterday morning with all the members present, except Mr. Stillson, who is absent from the city on business.

On motion it was decided to ask the Council for a thirty-days' leave of absence for Mr. Stillson.

The Committee on Engine Houses reported in favor of accepting the Abbott property for an engine house at $100 per month, with a cost of $600 for putting it in repair. The lease will be for three years with a privilege of two more. The report was adopted and the Council will be requested to confirm the act. The building is on upper Main street. Engine Company 4, the chief's wagon and horse, the hook and ladder truck are all to be quartered there. It will save the city $75 per month.

The question of contracting with the Los Angeles Telegraph Company to take charge of and conduct the alarm system of the department for $1450 per year, came up.

Commissioners Brodrick and Stern favored the contract, arguing that it would save about $800 a year to the city. Mayor Hazard and Commissioner Kuhrts opposed it on the ground that it would be bad policy to allow the control of the system to pass from the control of the city authorities. After considerable argument a compromise was agreed upon, by which the electrician is to be permitted to resign, when a man to be furnished by the telegraph company will be employed to take charge of the system, the company being charged with the success of the system, the man being paid a monthly salary of $121 per month, the company furnishing all the supplies excepting the poles and boxes. By this means, if the arrangement is not satisfactory to the commission, the same can be declared off at the end of any one month. This was agreed to and the contract will be entered into.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were yesterday issued by the County Clerk:

John B. Bell, aged 36, a native of Canada, and Jennie Guyman, aged 27, a native of Illinois. Both live in Los Angeles.

William J. Hill, aged 42, a native of Ireland, and Blanche L. Spillman, aged 21, a native of Maryland. Both live at Anaheim.

RECOMMENDATIONS

—GIVEN TO—

DR. WOH,

The Celebrated Chinese Physician.

I hereby testify that I have been under treatment of Dr. Woh, the celebrated Chinese physician of this city, the past five weeks for a complication of diseases of long standing and can gladly and sincerely say that he has entirely cured me.

PAUL VALIN,
Santa Fé Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal.

For eight months past my wife was a great sufferer from female troubles. For days at a time her pain was so severe that no rest could she obtain or sleep at nights. Unwillingly I forced her to visit Dr. Woh, the Chinese physician. The doctor undertook to cure her and now with grateful hearts we confess to a complete recovery in her case.

J. F. BURDICK,
February 6th, 1891. Riverside, Cal.

I want to add my testimonial to the remarkable manner in which Dr. Woh has cured me. I had for years been suffering from scrofula my body at times being literally covered with sores and swellings. All treatment failed, until in a fit of desperation I called at Dr. Woh's office. He advised me and gave me medicines and in less than two months I was well and healthy. I do thank Dr. Woh for his great success.

MISS LIZZIE WHITE,
January 8, 1891, Pasadena, Cal.

For quite a number of years I have been a great sufferer and paid out large sums of money for doctors and medicines. My disease was claimed by some to be Bright's disease others said it was gravel, but I could not find relief. I got worse and worse until my life was despaired of. The treatment and operations to which I submitted were terrible. Finally at the request of a friend who had been cured by Dr. Woh, I consented to submit my case to his hands. The doctor seemed to know my trouble from the very first, and told me he would entirely cure me within two months' time. In less than that period my strength came back, my general health was restored, and ever since that I have been a well and happy man.

M. S. CRAIG,
february 24, 1891. Alameda st., near Jefferson st., Los Angeles, Cal.

Unsolicited I wish to state for the public good the wonderful cure upon me made by Dr. Woh, the Chinese physician. For a long time I have suffered untold agony and tried all known remedies but failed. Dr. Woh was recommended to me and I tried him. He at once, after feeling my pulse, pronounced my trouble to be a severe attack of one of his Chinese variety of kidney disease. He prescribed for me for about three weeks. Then I knew I was a well man. Dr. Woh and his treatment are a success.

AXEL MELANDER,
March 4, 1891. 416 S. Main st. Los Angeles, Cal.

The remedies are purely herbs and roots which Dr. Woh has familiarized himself thoroughly with by a long practice in the Imperial hospital of China.

Dr. Woh is the oldest and best-known Chinese physician in Southern California, and his cures have been remarkable, especially in female troubles, tumors, etc.

All diseases are located by and through the pulse.

Free consultation to every one and all are cordially invited to call upon Dr. Woh at his office.

SOME interesting papers were read at the bankers' convention yesterday.

GOOD oranges are retailing in San Francisco at from 60 to 75 cents a dozen. This looks as if the overdoing of the industry was still a long way off.

GEN. CHIPMAN delivered an eloquent and interesting address at the citrus fair yesterday evening. By the way, the General was nominated yesterday in the Senate for the United States Senatorship.

AFTER 154 ballots, the Illinois Legislature has elected a Democrat, Gen. Palmer, to the United States Senate. It is to be hoped that our Legislature will not take quite so long to choose a successor to Senator Hearst.

THE work of taking the census of the British Empire was begun Thursday in India. It is exeected to show 280,000,000 inhabitants in India against 254,000,000 in 1881. The British Isles will be taken a month hence, and it is estimated the population will show an increase of 15 per cent.

SAN DIEGO takes a more liberal view of our citrus fair than does Riverside. The Union of the former city says:

An opportunity will be presented by this fair for San Diego people to be present and direct the attention of strangers to our county, and if they supplement the exhibit by their presence and personal efforts, the county cannot fail to profit immensely by the fair. There ought to be a large representation of San Diego people at Los Angeles.

WE have received No. 1 of a new eight-page Los Angeles weekly, entitled the Alliance Farmer. In its title page, the journal calls itself "the organ of the Farmers' Alliance for Southern California." In a paragraph it says: "The Farmer did not nor does it claim to be the official organ of the Alliance." The new publication contains a large amount of reading matter.

INSPECTOR BYRNES of New York says that outrages by strikers upon men who are at work must stop. In a speech to his captains of police yesterday the inspector told them they would be held to strict accountability if further deeds of violence were committed. An outrage in which vitriol was used, with probably fatal effect, caused the inspector to take this stand.

WE have received a letter from an eastern visitor on the subject of excessive hotel charges referred to yesterday. The proprietor of the Westminster states that accommodation can be had in his hotel at from $2.50 a day up. When he charges $10 or $12 it is for two persons, with parlor and other special accommodations. This certainly appears to be reasonable enough.

THE San Diego Union thus comments on the abstention of Riverside from participation in the citrus fair:

Riverside, it is said, has declined to take any conspicuous part in the citrus fair which opens today at Los Angeles. That is, the section will not be represented as a section, and the only displays to be made will be by individuals. The reasons for this non-participation seem to be rather discreditable to the community, but one thing is certain, no one will suffer but Riverside. People will find out that many other sections in Southern California can grow just as fine oranges as Riverside.

Now that the balloting at Sacramento is going on, it is interesting to glance back at the following statement made ten days ago to a San Francisco Bulletin correspondent at Sacramento, by a legislator who objected to having his name used:

"If somebody who has the power does not interfere here and stop this business the proceedings of the next two weeks will damn the Republican party eternally and result in a scandal that will send half a dozen men to the State Prison. This combination which has been formed to stay out of caucus has but one meaning. It is designed to sell this seat in the United States Senate to the highest bidder. If no caucus is held the balloting will have to commence in both Houses a week from Tuesday. Of course, the Republicans will divide up and elect nobody. A ballot will have to be taken every day thereafter in joint convention, until somebody is chosen. During this time votes will be traded and purchased. Already trades are being made on bills pending, and that will continue to the end. I am no friend of King Caucus, for a great many outrages are perpetrated in his name, but here is a case where forty-six men can get together and save their party with one of his decrees."

WHAT ARE THEY WAITING FOR?

Yesterday the Legislature met in joint session and proceeded to ballot for United States Senator. Only one ballot was taken, the total being 29 for Estee, 24 for DeYoung and 13 for Felton. Estee thus gained 4 and DeYoung 2 over the previous day, the gains coming from the Assembly. The joint convention then adjourned until today.

It looks very much as if the legislators were holding off until a sufficient material inducement shall be put up to cause them to change their votes. In this case, they would better be careful, for they are closely watched. It will be a difficult matter for bribers to get in their work this time without exposure. Bribery has been exposed before in such contests, but the people were not so much aroused on the question as they are at present. They are now determined to stand no nonsense.

What insufferable impudence it is on part of these men, elected by the people, paid by the the people, who dare to offer to barter the United States Senatorship for filthy coin! Do they reflect what they are doing? Do they consider that such a course can but lead to the destruction of Republican principles and to a disastrous conflict between the mass of the people and a small body of purse-proud plutocrats, backed by their paid vassals?

Probably these men, whose votes are for sale, think of no such thing. They are there to "make a stake" and are willing—many of them—to risk their reputation in making it. The people, however, are doing a vast amount of thinking for them, and will do an equal amount of denouncing, in case they disgrace the State by selling their votes.

THE CITRUS INDUSTRY.

Nobody can visit the citrus fair without being impressed by the excellence of the display, apart from the artistic merit of the arrangements. The latter feature pleases the general public, but the practical horticulturists take more interest in the fruit itself. Never have such fine oranges and lemons been shown in California before. This is especially noteworthy from the fact that Riverside did not contribute to the display, although many Eastern people—and not a few Californians—have been taught to believe that, for really fine oranges, one has to go to Riverside. That such is not the case, a visit to the present fair amply proves. Take, for instance, Pomona's exhibit. No finer oranges were ever seen, anywhere.

In his opening address, Mr. Spalding gave some interesting statistics of the citrus industry, which is rapidly assuming an importance that was little dreamed of fifteen years ago. It is estimated that there are now in Los Angeles county, in round figures, 1,000,000 orange trees in orchard and 2,500,000 in nursery. San Bernardino county is credited with 1,500,000 trees, and Orange county with 500,000. This gives a total of about 4,500,000 trees in the three counties. The value of the citrus crop to the growers, last year, was about $1,750,000. It will rapidly increase from now on, unless some unforeseen calamity, like the white scale, should come as a set-back. The growers are now, however, better prepared to treat such pests, and by combination can do much to keep them out.

THE TELESCOPE FOR WILSON'S PEAK.

Los Angeles county will before long boast of another attraction in the shape of a more powerful telescope than that on Mount Hamilton, which is at present the most powerful in the world. The Boston Herald recently gave an interesting account of a visit to the great disk of glass which is to be used in making this telescope. It was in the cellar of the residence of Alvan G. Clark, at Cambridgeport, Mass. The glass measures ten feet in circumference. It represents about twelve months' work already, though two or three years will be required to finish it. When it is ready for its position in the big telescope it will represent a value of from $60,000 to $70,000. It it now insured for large sums in two of the biggest insurance companies in Boston. It is nearly five inches wider in diameter than the Lick telescope glass. Before its Parisian manufacturers succeeded in turning out this perfect specimen they had melted out dozens and dozens like it in size, but possessing no claims of rivalry as regarded perfection. Even this one had to be cut and re-cut before all the air bubbles and inequalities were carved out of it. This reduced its thickness by a couple of inches, and the further processes it will have to undergo before it is fit for its cell may reduce its present thickness very materially.

It is believed that this great telescope will settle many vexatious questions regarding the planet Mars.

A BLOODED LIAR.

The Marshall County Democrat of February 27, published at Lacon, Ill., contains an item which reminds us of the halcyon days of the boom. It is as follows:

Jerry Feazel writes a letter to F. D. Shafer, from Los Angeles, which was handed us. We make the following extracts from it: "I have nothing good to write from here. The people are dying at a fearful rate; hardly have time to bury the dead. I have never seen the like before; look any way you may and you will see a funeral procession. The cemeteries look as if they were all dug up; it is a serious matter.

"Last year the crops were poor; nothing but a few sour oranges were saved; hardly pays to freight them to the East. The land is all under cultivation; water for irrigating purposes costs from $5 to $10 per acre. If it does not rain soon they will save nothing this year, as it is very dry now.

"I know there is a desire in Illinois people to come to California. It would be well for them, before selling a farm in Illinois, to come and see the country first. It is the worst coubtry I have ever seen for a poor man."

The man who wrote the above is a thoroughbred. He is a cheerful, thorough-going liar. Nothing half-way about him. We would advise him to start in as a professional humorist. That is evidently his forte, if he can only keep it up, but under such a strain as this his system is liable to give way at any moment.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The closing performances of The Water Queen were given yesterday to only fair houses, the attendance showing quite a falling off from the opening night.

This evening the much-talked-of and well-advertised farce-comedy entitled All the Comforts of Home will be seen here for the first time and with an exceptionally strong cast. The advance sale is reported by the management as unusually large, showing that considerable public interest is felt in the production. The piece has just finished a run of three weeks in San Francisco, where its success was helped by the introduction of two curtain-raisers during the season. One of these little affairs was the wooing scene from Henry V. said to have been delightfully done by Maud Haslam and Henry Miller. On the other nights, Sweet Will, a one act commedietta by the author of Saints and Sinners, preceded the regular play and gave Henry Miller an excellent opportunity to show his versatility. The same opportunity was afforded to Maud Haslam and must have much increased the pleasure of the audience of witnessing the principal piece.

This chance for exhibiting a contrast in character is of great use to the actors in establishing a reputation, and in maintaining it when established, not to speak of the satisfaction to the audience.

It seems somewhat singular that the managers of the company do not apparently intend to afford the Los Angeles public the same entertainment as that given to the people of San Francisco, albeit the prices will be the same. The curtan-raiser is growing in popularity, and there seems in the present case to be no good reason why the luxury should not be furnished during this engagement, particularly as it can be done without any additional outlay.

Let Him Fearlessly Face It.

Let any man once show the world that he feels
Afraid of its bark, and 'twill fly at his heels;
Let him fearlessly face it, 'twill leave him alone;
But 'twill fawn at his feet if he flings it a bone.

THE CABLE ROAD TROUBLE.

A Chicago Paper Comes to the Defense of Mr. Holmes.

[Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

Men who invest money and lose are always glad when they can find some one on whom they can cast the responsibility. They go in with enthusiasm for something of which they have no knowledge except by general report, and when it turns out badly they look around, finding fault because somebody did not investigate for them and tell them not to do it. The Inter-Ocean has little sympathy with such people, especially when they are people of large means, with abundant opportunities for investigating everything they put their money in.

There is a great howl just now in certain quarters against C. B. Holmes. A stranger reading some of the newspapers might almost suppose that Mr. Holmes had had complete charge of the fortunes of some rich men and invested their funds just as he desired. Those who know the men making the fuss will believe nothing of the kind. Two or three years ago there was undoubtedly a mania for investing in street and cable roads. The success of the South, North and West Side roads made in Chicago, and similar undertakings elsewhere, fired the hearts of a great many people who had money to invest with the desire to get on the "ground floor" with some street railroad syndicate.

While this mania prevailed most of the street railroad lines from Los Angeles to Indianapolis were gobbled up by eager purchasers. It seems certain that about that time Mr. Holmes involved himself deeply with several syndicates in that line of business. Others, seeing Mr. Holmes' confidence, probably invested because they thought he knew a good thing in the street railway line when he saw it. That probably is the extent of his offending with these growling investors. They deserve the sympathy of no one on the showing so far made public.

Just what Mr. Holmes may have done to save the property of himself and co-investors has not yet been shown. It may be that something will develop that will show that in his efforts to save these enterprises he has technically violated the law, but he has lived too long an honest, enterprising, and worthy citizen of this city, a man earnest in good works, to be condemned without a hearing. A sharp lawyer not troubled with a sensitive conscience, in the service of rich clients, can "make a mountain out of a mole-hill," and the efforts are doubtless being made in that direction in Mr. Holmes' case. There are lawyers and business men who, as citizens and men of good works, have never been Mr. Holmes' equals, that would now like to show great flaws in this man who has been held up to them as a model. The case is a sad one at best. If others lost money, Mr. Holmes lost everything, but as to the loss of honesty and integrity Mr. Holmes is entitled to a suspension of public judgment until he has opportunity to show the contrary.

Stanford's Presidential Boom.

[Washington Dispatch to St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

Senator Stanford has discovered that under the rules the adverse report of the Finance Committee on his land loan scheme knocks the bill off the calendar. This is one way in which legislation by committee works. His proposition has lost its standing. When the predicament was discovered by Mr. Stanford he applied to his Senatorial friends to tell him how to get the bill back on the calendar. Mr. Vance of North Carolina, who recently had a terrific struggle trying to see the wisdom of the Farmers' Alliance sub-treasury idea before he was reëlected, was one of those to whom Stanford applied for suggestions.

"I don't know, Stanford, how you can get that bill back on the calendar," said Vance, "but I should say it would take a crane and derrick to put it back there."

The Stanford boom for the Presidency, which had a brief run just before the Senator was hurried off to Europe by his friends for rest, has broken out with increased violence. There is one weekly paper published in Washington which is devoted to the Stanford propaganda. It is now sending out 50,000 copies a week. This is only one feature of the work of the Stanford Literary Bureau. Those who have the confidence say that his position is that if the masses seem to desire him to be a candidate he will run in 1892 on a platform of free coinage of silver and the Stanford loan scheme. In spite of his boom the Senator maintains pleasant social relations with the Administration. He expects to entertain the President and family on the Southern and California trip now being planned for the coming springtime.

An Intelligent Citizen.

[Oakland Times.]

Down in Los Angeles, the other day, one of the Superior judges admitted to citizenship a man who stated that he did not know whether the United States was governed by a king or an emperor. That is certainly extremely poor material of which to build an American. It is to be presumed that the man has been in this country long enough to entitle him to naturalization—if anything is to be presumed in connection with a person so densely ignorant. There is, in fact, no certainty that he would understand the nature of an oath or that, understanding it, he would hesitate about committing the crime of perjury. More, he probably would not even know what perjury meant. But presuming the residence, if the man were intelligent enough for citizenship he should certainly in that time have familiarized himself somewhat with the form of government of the country. One would suppose that the ordinary intercourse with neighbors would familiarize the applicant sufficiently with national institutions to enable him to know at least that he was living under a republic.

The judge in this case, however, is far more culpable than the applicant—who clearly knew no better. It is such wearers of the ermine as this that make farcical what should be the honor of American citizenship, and that degrade into the dust the highest gift that the republic can confer upon an alien.

THE LONGEST WORDS.

A Few Jaw-breakers That Seldom Find Their Way Into Print.

As to the longest word, says a writer in the Boston Transcript, in the chapter on "Book Craft," in Frederick Saunders's "Salad for the Solitary and the Social," he says: "The naturalist, Lovell, published a book at Oxford in 1661, entitled, 'Panzoologicomineralogia,' which is nearly as long a word as Rabelais's proposed title for a book, namely, 'Antipericatametaparhengedamphieribrationes!'" And in a foot note he gives two others from a pamphlet in his possession, published years ago in London. The title reads, "Chrononhotonthologos, the most tragical tragedy that ever was tragedized by any company of tragedians." The first two lines of this effusion read:

Aldeborontiphoscophornio...
Where left you Chrononhotonthologos?

And it has been stated that there is an English dictionary containing the only word of eleven syllables, "Honorificabilitudidity."

"Disproportionableness," is given as the longest word in the English language. Readers of Mr. Fisk's "Cosmic Philosophy," and kindred works, will remember how indispensable the word "deanthropomorphization"—longer by one letter and one syllable—has become in later years, and will maintain that if it is not in the dictionary it certainly ought to be there.

No New Paper Needed.

[Le Gaulois.]

It is said that another morning paper is to be started in Los Angeles, notwithstanding the disastrous fate of the one which recently "busted," after starving for a couple of years. What folly!

There is certainly no legitimate demand for another daily paper. Few cities of 50,000 population have three such excellent dailies as the Herald TIMES and Express. It is known that these papers are at present barely paying expenses. Why, then, should another paper be started? There must be something behind the move besides a mere journalistic or business venture, for every sensible man here knows that such a journal could not be made to pay. It is, therefore, only as the private organ of some person, corporation or clique that such a wild venture would be made. But such journals are always flat failures. The public is "on to" them from the start. They never obtain the confidence of their readers, who always suspect some ulterior object behind every argument.

The citizens of Los Angeles are at present well served by their three excellent daily papers. In our opinion, they will make a mistake if they lend encouragement to a new venture, which might injure the existing journals a little, but could not itself become a paying institution.

Food for Angels.

In the crowd of hungry excursionists that filled one of the leading restaurants of Los Angeles, just after the first of the blockaded trains came in, were two pretty young women—from the far East, evidently. Like their companions, they had been penned up out in the desert for a week and subsisted on the plain food, which was all that was available. They were hungry and they showed it, not only by their expectant faces, but by the avidity which marked their appropriation of a table, and the eagerness with which they scanned the bill of fare.

"What are you going to have, Nell?" said one; "to tell the truth I am famished, and I just know I could not have lived another day out in that awful place."

"Oh dear, I don't know; I am so faint. I must have something substantial. I guess I'll have—" to the waiter—"I guess I'll have some vanilla ice-cream and angel cake and—have you got any olives, and, and—well, that's all. What you going to order Belle?"

"Well, I want some pickles, any way, and some shrimp salad—you have'nt got any shrimp salad? Well then I'll have some Charlotte Russe—yes, that's it, and pickles you know."

And then those dear creatures passed a solid hour over their "substantial" meal, discussing the terrors of the desert.

STATE AND COAST.

The police of Fresno are trying to break up gambling.

Near San Bernardino John Farris was knocked down and robbed of $7 by two railroad laborers, whom he had some days before befriended.

The Blade objects to the common practice of applying the name "Santa Ana" to the north wind that occasionally blows, with more or less vigor, through the San Gorgonia Pass into that valley. To refer to it as the "Santa Ana wind" is called prejudicial and impious.

Coming immediately upon the heels of the rich strike at Oro Grande is the report of another mine just discovered above Daggett, between Ash Meadows and Timber Mountain. A man by the name of Montgomery has been prospecting around there for a year past, and has at last struck something good, the rock assaying very rich.

The Kern County Echo says: Monday was the day set for opening bids for the bonds of the Kern and Tulare irrigation district. Three hundred and fifty thousand dollars were offered and among the bids received was one of 91 per cent for the whole amount offered, the bidders stating that they would take the entire $600,000 at that figure.

Pepper Trees and Pests.

[Orange County Herald.]

A great many pepper trees are being cut down in different parts of the county, the farmers having come to the conclusion that they are breeding places for vermin and scale bugs. Care should be taken, however, to provide plenty of wind breaks, especially around orange groves.

The Oro Grande Strike.

[San Bernardino Times-Index.]

We learn through reliable sources that the gold strike on the Carbonate mine at Oro Grande is a reality. The gold is in a vein from two to eight inches wide, and goes from $500 to $1000 per sack, and is improving each day in quantity and quality of the ore. This is by far the richest find ever discovered in Southern California. We sincerely hope that the mine will improve clear down to the center of the earth. There are, without a doubt, vast bodies of gold ore on what is called the desert. This has been the belief of miners for many years. Now a bonanza has in reality been uncovered in the form of an immensely rich gold vein while working a silver mine.

Character of the Jack Rabbit.

[Oakland Times.]

The San Diego Union jumps upon Joaquin Miller for alleged exaggeration of the appetite of the jack rabbit in a clever story published in the Youth's Companion. The Times has not read the story, but Joaquin must have brought all of his well known vivid imaginative powers into play to have been guilty of enlarging upon john rabbit's liking for the green things of the earth. Why, the average jack—the genuine long-earned hare of the western deserts—will eat ten times his own weight of growing grain for breakfast, travel 500 miles to lunch upon a cactus patch, and then go 300 further and dine off a young orange orchard before sundown.

PALMER ELECTED.

CLOSE OF THE ILLINOIS SENATORIAL STRUGGLE.

The Result Brought About by the Defection of Two F. M. B. A. Men—A Death Blow to the Farmers' Organization.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.,) March 10.—[By the Associated Press.] Gen. Palmer was elected United States Senator today on the first ballot, to succeed Charles B. Farwell. Verification of the roll call showed that every Republican voted for Lindley, every Democrat for Palmer; Moore and Cockrell for Palmer, and Taubeneck for Streeter. "On this 154th ballot," said Speaker Crafts, "the whole number of votes cast is 204; necessary to a choice 103, of which John M. Palmer has received 103 votes [Democratic cheers,] A. J. Streeter 1 vote and Cicero J. Lindley 100 votes; and I hereby declare John M. Palmer duly elected United States Senator." Deafening applause from the Democratic side and galleries greeted this announcement. When silence was restored a joint committee of seven notified Palmer of his election. The committee returned with Senator Palmer, who was greeted with great applause. Speaker Crafts introduced him and he spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly: You ought scarcely expect me to speak at this time. I feel more like saying, 'Ain't I glad to get out of the wilderness?" I thank you for vindicating the rights of the people. By a plurality of votes was expressed a desire of the people to select a Senator, and my election is historical. You men who have labored so long to elect your independent candidate also deserve my thanks. [Applause.] My Republican friends, I thank you. In this contest was represented the old method of electing Senators. I thank you that the contest has been free from personalities. [Applause.]

The joint Assembly then adjourned sine die. When the vote was progressing, Representative Taubeneck, the only one of the farmers who did not go to the Democrats, said: "I vote for A. G. Steeter, nominee of the F. M. B. A. party." And dropping into his seat burst into tears. It was sincere sorrow, and cheer after cheer from the Republican side rewarded his loyalty to his party nominee.

Tonight the Democrats are resorting to every device known to make a noise and express in some measure their exultation over the election of Gen. Palmer. All over the city, flags and bunting are flying, and tonight fireworks are being used without stint.

Dr. Moore, in an interview this afternoon, said he was convinced it was the earnest desire of the majority of his constituents that he should vote as he did, when rumors were being circulated all over the country that Streeter was no longer an Independent, but a Republican.

Cockrell said it was agreed between Dr. Moore and himself from the beginning that as Palmer had made his fight before the people and had been indorsed by their vote, they would vote for Palmer after they had demonstrated the fact that they could not elect a straight Independent man. Cockrell added that he and Moore decided in the first part of the session that Taubeneck was a straight-out Republican. "During the last few days," said Cockrell, "we became afraid that a scheme was being worked to make a break in the Democratic ranks. We feared this break would result in sending a certain Chicago millionaire to the Senate by means of boodle, and determined to head off any such scheme."

Taubeneck, in an interview tonight, said: "If the Democratic part of the F. M. B. Association sustains the action of Moore and Cockrell it will break the organization all to pieces. If their action is condemned it will show that the organization is sound. I have no complaint to make of any one except Moore and Cockrell. They have played the traitor. In the last few days they would not agree to anything; they were not willing to take up any other candidate, and would not even have any conferences. I am perfectly satisfied with my own course. I wish the people and the press would not call us the 'big three' any more. If people are satisfied with the actions of Moore and Cockrell let them be called the 'big two' and call me the 'little one.'"

Gen. Palmer tonight said that his canvass has demonstrated that the true method of electing a Senator is by appeal to the people. He had little to say in addition to his speech of this afternoon, except that he will advocate in the United States Senate an amendment to the constitution enabling people to vote directly for Senators.

The defeated F. M. B. A. candidate, Mr. Streeter said: "The manifesto issued by Moore and Cockrell was very surprising to me. I regard the course they have taken as meaning death to the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association. Hereafter it will be known far and wide as an auxiliary to the Democratic party. In future the organization will have no influence in the politics of the State and very little influence in the politics of the country at large. By their action Moore and Cockrell must be held responsible for the length of this contest, and for the enormous expenses entailed on the people."

The Democratic members of the General Assembly are getting up a fund of $500 to procure for Messrs. Cockrell and Moore two magnificent badges, in commemoration of their votes today.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.,) March 11.—On receipt of a telegram announcing the election of Gen. Palmer in Illinois, Gov. Buchanan ordered a salute of 101 guns fired for Palmer and the Democratic members, and one each for Cockrell and Moore.

New Phase of the Moosa Canyon Affair—Suits for Heavy Damages Against the Persons Implicated.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PORTLAND (Or.,) March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Boise City, Idaho, says: In the Capitol tonight there was a lively fight between J. D. Fienner, editor of the Boise Hornet, and R. C. Bonney, correspondent of the Salt Lake Herald. The latter telegraphed to his paper on Monday night that Fienner was dead and had made a deathbed confession of a political intrigue etc., implicating Dubois, and other stories of similar nature. The paper reached here today and Fienner began a hunt for Bonney. Meeting him in the hall outside the House of Representatives, words passed between them and Fienner then proceeded to knock Barney down several times, punishing him severly and demonstrating that for a corpse he is a pretty lively one.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A Train off the Track on a High Embankment.

SANTA ROSA, March 11,—[By the Associated Press.] There was a narrow escape from a serious disaster on the North Pacific Coast road last evening. A switch was left open sixty feet south of the bridge, and the 7:30 train jumped the track. It seemed at first that the locomotive and cars must run off into the creek, but they did not leave the track more than ten inches before striking the bridge. The engineer and fireman stayed in the cab until the train was brought to a standstill in the middle of the bridge. The locomotive was demolished and only kept from falling into the creek, thirty feet below, by the stout iron uprights on the bridge. No one was injured beyond a few minor bruises.

A Suit for Heavy Damages Growing Out of the Affair.

SAN DIEGO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] Still another suit has been filed, growing out of the now celebrated Moosa Cañon tragedy of two years ago. The defendants are Levi P. Stone, James Stone, George Morris, D. M. Breedlove, Archibald Freeman and H. H. Dinwiddie. Dinwiddie was the justice of the peace who sent the posse to eject the Going family from the premises claimed by Stone. A few days ago Burnham had the defendants arrested for murder, but they were all discharged except Constable Freeman, who is now awaiting trial. The damage case is set for March 2.

A BANK-WRECKER

Arrested for Causing the Collapse of Several Concerns.

CHICAGO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] Charles E. Cook, formerly an officer of the defunct Park National Bank of this city and part owner in two Wisconsin banks that failed when the Park Bank went under, was arrested today on requisitions from Wisconsin. The charge is illegal banking. The complainant is George W. Morse, clerk of the Circuit Court of Dodge county, Wis., one of Cook's alleged victims. Banker Cook is alleged to have wrecked the bank at Juneau, Wis., of which he was manager, and a similar institution at Hartford, Wis. The amount of money said to have disappeared was about $50,000. Farmers and small tradesmen were the sufferers.

At the time of the failure Cook could not be found and two of his Wisconsin associates, Frank Leake and G. D. Richardson, were arrested. Since then Cook is supposed to have been in Europe for a time and recently in India. He took his arrest today coolly and succeeded in being released on bail pending the hearing of a writ of habeas corpus. He claims to be able to prove his innocence.

SETTLERS' SQUABBLE.

Trouble Threatened On the "Mile Square," Near Pierre, S. D.

PIERRE (S. D.,) March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] Excitement on the "Mile Square" on the reservation opposite Pierre again promises bloodshed. According to a recent law passed by Congress, the "Mile Square" is thrown open to townsite settlers, and squatters now on the land propose to hold it. If an attack is made blood will be spilt, as the present owners have spent considerable money and propose to hold their land.

Lack of Funds Will Prevent the Proposed April Meeting—The Managers Again Talking of Reducing Expenses.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The Executive Committee of the World's Fair directory today authorized the Committee on Ways and Means to enter into and consummate all negotiations for the sale of fair privileges and concessions. The sale of miscellaneous goods in the fair grounds will not be permitted except to importers when the articles are such as may be obtained in any first-class house outside of the grounds, and nothing may be vended which is at variance with the dignity of the fair.

No transferring or sub-letting of privileges will be permitted. Thirty days prior to closing the contracts for grants the committee will advertise in the daily press of the county for proposals. Persons desiring to buy privileges should address the Ways and Means Committee and obtain blanks to be provided for applicants.

William Penn Nixon has referred to the World's Fair press bureau a letter which he has received from Mrs. Amy A. Jackson of Old Hickory, Tenn., concerning the Andrew Jackson exhibit at the Exposition. This lady and her husband are owners of Gen. Jackson's old homestead, the Hermitage, and a large number of Jacksonian relics. She is indignant at the State of Tennessee for neglecting to purchase and preserve the Hermitage and its relics which, she says, visitors declare are more interesting than Mount Vernon itself. Rather than have these treasures revert to the State she would make a bonfire of them.

She is anxious to have a fac-simile of the Hermitage erected on the Exposition grounds and filled with relics. The terms on which they offer this exhibit are: that they shall be insured against loss; that the transportation shall be paid; that they may be offered for sale during the Exposition; that the owners shall be maintained during the time articles are on exhibition and that the Jackson exhibit shall be located as far as possible from the Tennessee State exhibit.

It is stated that members of the board of control of the national commission will recommend that no meeting of the commission be held in April as projected. The funds at command would be too nearly exhausted by such meeting.

The board also recommends a reduction of salaries, except that of Director-General Davis, and the retrenchment of clerical expenditure.

EASTERN FLOODS.

High Water in the Cumberland and Tennessee Valleys.

GREENVILLE (Miss.,) March 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The rise in the river here continues. The recent rainfall in the Cumberland and Tennessee valleys is causing those streams to rise rapidly and overflow their banks, which will add to the present high stage now in the Mississippi. But people here are not generally alarmed. Confidence is felt in the ability of the levees to withstand the flood.

BANGOR (Me.,) March 11.—Considerable damage was done yesterday by a flood. The tide was one of the highest known here since the flood of 1847. Nearly all the cellars along Broad street were flooded. Sewers were stopped up and houses flooded.

Guatemala Subsidizes Steamers.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The Department of State is informed that the government of Guatemala will enter into a contract with the Cosmos Steamship Company for the establishment of a line of steamers, monthly each way, between ports in Guatemala and Hamburg, Germany. The company agrees to carry free of cost all employés of the government and to transport for half the ordinary rates articles for the government, also to carry immigrants from Europe to Guatemala at half rates.

The steamers are to carry the mail free. Guatemala will pay a subsidy of $1000 for every steamer of the line calling at its ports.

McAuliffe In Court.

BROOKLYN (N. Y.,) March 11.—The preliminary examination in the case of Jack McAuliffe, whose poolroom was raided on March 5, was commenced today. Cornelius McAuliffe, Herman Franklin, William Anderson and Daniel Fingletar were discharged. The case was then adjourned to March 14.

Death of a Midget.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Gen. Wood, the colored midget, who has been on exhibition at one of the museums here, was found dead in bed in his room this morning. He had been suffocated by gas. Whether death was the result of accident or design is not known.

Big Fire at Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Fire, started by a boy upsetting a can of varnish, tonight destroyed the works of the Arthur Manufacturing Company and the property of several other firms in the same building. The losses aggregate $200,000.

California Trotters Sold.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The sale of trotting stock of Monroe Salisbury of the Pleasanton farm, Cal., began today. There was a large attendance, but bidding was slow, prices ranging from $300 to $950.

Fatally Injured.

WILLIAMSPORT (Pa.,) March 11.—The front of a building in the course of demolition suddenly fell out this afternoon, probably fatally injuring four workmen.

A Railroad's Earnings.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The annual report of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad shows net surplus earnings of $135,000 for the year 1890.

To Submit to Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—There is nothing further in the Baring Sea question. So said Secretary Blaine this afternoon. It is practically settled that he will submit the question to arbitration.

Murderers Pool Their Issues.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Counsel for Harris Smiler and James Slocum, both sentenced to die by electricity for murder, have joined forces and will exhaust all legal technicalties to save their clients.

Probably a Fake.

SIOUX CITY, March 11.—The Tacoma special about the confession of Lars Peterson cannot be verified. No such man as Peterson or his victim ever worked in Silberhorn's packing-house here.

Assigned.

NEW YORK, March 11.—D. A. Woodhouse & Co., dealer in railway and telegraph supplies, assigned today without preferences.

Powers & Son, tea merchants, assigned today.

SYRACUSE (N. Y.,) March 11.—This was the thirteenth day of the pool tournament. De Oro easily defeated Luddington—150 to 76. Wenrick made 150 to Ward's 146; Powers 150, Keogh 124.

POLICE BUSINESS.

Regular Meeting of the Commission Yesterday.

The Police Commissioners met in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, with Commissioner Lewis in the chair, and Commissioners Bryson and Dexter present, Chief Glass being in attendance as usual.

A communication was received from Officer Rinkenbach, asking that he be given a rehearing in the matter of the arrest of one Walter C. Layton, on the ground that he had discovered new evidence going to show that he only did his duty. On motion of Commissioner Dexter the officer was granted a rehearing, the date to be hereafter agreed upon.

The committee on the case of officer Purvis reported, recommending that the officer be suspended for thirty days without pay from February 28. The report was adopted.

The following transfers of saloon licenses were granted: To William Leiber, No. 246 South Main street, from John Frohlinger; to John McMaroney, No. 400 South Spring street, from McMaroney & Mackel; to Denis Felix, No. 143 South Broadway, from M. E. Nichall.

The usual demands were presented and approved.

G. W. Church and F. M. Fuller were appointed special officers without pay from the city, as was also I. A. Sepulveda for service in Chinatown.

The application of Bert E. Baily for a position on the force was received and filed, after which the board adjourned.

Redondo.

REDONDO, March 10.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The recent rains here have not only made the hills around Redondo a brilliant green, but dotted around on the beautiful carpeting of grass can be found wild flowers in the greatest profusion of every variety and color. Certainly this southern country is wonderfully endowed, and what more could the tourist ask than a cloudless sky, balmy spring-like air, and his pathway strewn with the loveliest flowers. Besides all this Redondo can furnish indoor accommodations and amusement such as are seldom found at any resort. This has been testified to by the numerous guests who have spent the winter at the hotel.

Gen. J. W. Sprague and wife left today for a few days' visit to El Paso, and will return to the Redondo in a short time.

A large party from Chicago registered at the Redondo today, and among them are Mrs. B. E. Brenard, Mrs. J. F. Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Durand and daughter, C. S. Burchoal, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miner, R. C. Egan and wife, Mrs. S. A. Calder, W. H. Colom, Miss Katherine Colom, Miss Jessie Colom. Other arrivals are: E. Petrie Hoyle, San Juan Capistrano; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston and child, Prescott, Ariz.; T. H. Minor, L. D. Graiter, San Francisco; H. S. Holmes, Portland, Or.; John L. Kimball, Salt Lake City; George H. Heartt, Rochester, N. Y.; Walter S. Bowler; Cleveland, O.; J. S. Reef and family, Leadville, Colo., M. Peck, Saginaw; W. W. Julin and son, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves, Pasadena; R. H. Thompson, Oregon; I. A. Smith, Miss Alice Smith, New York; H. L. Sloan, Redlands.

The steamer Bonita started north today with 200 tons of grain, oats and merchandise. Capt. Leland in charge. B.

Long Beach.

LONG BEACH, March 8.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The Ocean Spray literary society of this place gave an entertainment last Friday night at the Tabernacle before a good-sized audience. The club is composed of the more advanced pupils of the public school, and some of them in their readings, recitations and essays evince talent above the ordinary.

The platform was beautifully embellished with calla lilies and sprigs of evergreen interspersed with vines; and a jet d' eau that fell in a fountain on the platform gave a realistic exhibition of the "Ocean Spray." Master Charles Holdredge presided during the first part of the evening, being relieved at the beginning of the second act by Miss Maud Pratt, who engineered the programme to a successful finish.

The following excellent programme was ably sustained:

Vocal Duet—Hazel Webster and Myrtle Decker.

Biography of Oliver Wendell Holmes—James Lawson.

Reading, "The Chambered Nautilus"—Linnie Wingard.

Recitation, "Contentment"—Maud Pratt.

Reading, "Three Times Two"—Hazelton Seeley.

Recitation, "Bill and Joe"—Charles Holdredge.

Music, duet, vocal—Nina Cuthbert and La Vergne Lowe.

Charade—Club.

Biography of Mrs. Alcott's early life—Eddie Cryer.

Biography of Mrs. Alcott's later life—Nina Cuthbert.

Reading, "To My Father"—Janie Sullivan.

Reading, selections—Cora Holdredge.

Recitation, "Our Angel in the House"—Myrtle Benedict.

Reading, "My Contraband"—Myrtle Decker.

Reading, "My Kingdom"—Ada Dillon.

Vocal Quartette—Nina Cuthbert, La Vergne Lowe, Frank Cook and Will Graves.

NOTES.

Miss Maud Pratt's recitation of "Contentment" was good, and with a little judicious training she would make a finished elocutionist. The Misses Nina Cuthbert, Cora Holdredge, Ada Dillon, Janie Sullivan, Hazel Webster, Myrtle Decker, Linnie Wingard and Myrtle Benedict spoke and read their pieces in a faultless manner. Eddie Cryer, James Lawson and Charles Holdredge kept up the boys' end. Miss Cuthbert and Miss Lowe, for a house so deficient in acoustic properties, did very well in their vocal duet, as did also Myrtle Decker and Hezel Webster. NEMO.

THE TEACHERS.

Interesting Features of Yesterday's Session of the Institute.

The County Teachers' Institute continued its sessions yesterday.

The morning session was prompt in opening in all four sections. The High school section had four excellent addresses: Physics, Mr. James D. Graham; algebra, Miss Clara Lillibridge; elementary geometry, Miss Geneveve Sharpe; plain and solid geometry, Mr. James M. Pemberton. These addresses, while interesting to teachers, would be rather dry reading to the general public.

In the other four sections there were forty minutes devoted to discussion of the subjects already treated upon by the instructors yesterday. The leaders of the discussion were as follows:

First section—Mrs. N. F. W. Pond, Miss Helen E. Hunt and Miss Rose H. Hardenberg.

Second section—Mrs. Fannie H. Byram, Miss Mary A. Parmelee and Miss E. M. Snyder.

Third section—Miss Lizzie B. Moore, Miss Allie M. Felker and Miss Carrie Lorbeer.

Fourth section—Mr. J. H. Strine, Mr. J. F. West and Miss Edith M. Joy.

Prof. Alex E. Frye continued his geography lessons, speaking, among other things, of map drawing, and showing how too much exactness was required in the maps drawn by children.

The drawing lessons were continued under the direction of Prof. Swafford.

Mrs. J. Powell Rice continued her music lessons, showing her idea of the use of colors in teaching the children vocal music. A color was used to indicate each note.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the opening of the session which was, as usual, in the main assembly hall, the first thing on the programme was a recitation by Miss Foy, Hiawawatha's Wooing. The piece was rendered in a way to bring out all the beauties of Longfellow's beautiful poem.

Superintendent Keyes of Riverside opened the main part of the programme with an address upon foundations of pedagogical study. The address was in Prof. Keyes's usual forcible, half-humorous style. He held up to ridicule the idea that teachers could teach children without special preparation, and said that those teachers who learned to teach by teaching, have done so at the expense of whole school houses full of children.

A five-minute recess followed, and then Miss Cora Slack read an excellent paper upon school-room decoration, pointing out the uses of making the school room beautiful and the means of decorating same at slight expense.

Next came Prof. Keyes again, with an address upon "Fundamentals of Arithmetic." As usual, he criticised freely the methods of arithmetic teaching in vogue, and exemplified methods that certainly seemed wonderfully simple to the ordinary observer.

The question box developed several questions upon Prof. Keyes's statements in previous talks, which he answered clearly and concisely. There were no other questions in the box.

Mrs. Brown of this city was the next feature of the programme, with a song. She was enthusiastically applauded.

A discussion of school organization and government took up the remaining hour of the afternoon session, introduced by the following short papers and addresses: Requisites in the teachers, Dr. A. W. Palmer; how to begin, Miss Margaret F. Scott; means to be employed, C. L. Ennis; rules, Prof. James A. Foshay; punishment, W. E. Bray; discipline on the school grounds, Miss Janet Henderson. Among the subjects touched upon were: The necessity for specialists in teaching as well as other lines; the need for continual study on the part of teacher in order to keep pace with the times; the need of earnestness and enthusiasm, as well as preparation for the work; orderly arrangement of lessons and recitations, and the need of a regular daily programme; punishment usually unnecessary, but should be prescribed, for law without a penalty is inoperative, and without law there's anarchy and confusion; punishments proportionate to the offense.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session took place in the Central Baptist Church, and was given up to a lecture by Prof. John Dickinson. It was entitled "A Plea for Culture," and was a plea for a broad and generous culture on the part of the teacher, as distinguished from a mere professional education or utilitarian training for the work of the schoolroom.

NOTES.

One of the several interesting exhibits in the halls of the High school is that of the kindergartens, under the direction of Mrs. Mahew.

The programme of today includes, besides the lessons on geography, music and drawing, and the forty minutes devoted to discussion by the four lower sections, the following papers and addresses for the High school section: Latin, beginning work, Superintendent F. A. Molyneaux; Latin, Cæsar and Cicero, Miss Alma S. Brigham; chemistry, Dr. LeRoy D. Brown; botany, Prof. John Dickinson.

The afternoon programme for the general session will be: Swedish system of gymnastics, Miss Agnes McLean; address, Hon. J. W. Anderson; physical conditions of success, Prof. John Dickinson; address, Dr. W. S. Matthew.

Tomorrow morning will witness the close of the institute in a general session, where the various lines will be drawn together and finished, committees will report and the miscellaneous business be finished.

FLORAL SOCIETY.

The Name Changed and the Field Broadened.

The last meeting of the Southern California Floral Society was unusually interesting, and the scope and character of the organization greatly broadened. The first and most important move was the changing of the name by substituting the word horticultural for that of floral, it having been found that the latter word conveyed the erroneous impression that the society was a body composed of people interested in flowers only, while in reality the general trend of its work is the discussion of economic plants quite as much as the ornamental. The admission fee was also increased to $1 and the quarterly dues to an equal amount.

The topic under discussion was "Window Gardening," the essayist of the evening being J. H. Tomlinson, superintendent of the city parks. Mr. Tomlinson made an earnest plea for the cultivation of window gardening, both inside and outside of dwellings.

Henry W. Kruckeberg of the Rural Californian offered the following preamble and resolution, which was unanimously passed:

WHEREAS, the name of Gen. N. P. Chipman, a man of national reputation, a highly educated gentleman, a lawyer, and an expert in horticulture, and president of the California World's Fair Association has been suggested for the office of Chief of the Bureau of Horticulture at the Columbian Exhibition at Chicago; and

WHEREAS, California now being the leading horticultural State in the Union, producing larger varieties of fruits and nuts, from a commercial point of view, than any other State, and is therefore justly entitled to name the Chief of the Bureau of Horticulture of the World's Fair; therefore be it

Resolved, that the Southern California Horticultural Society hereby indorses Gen. Chipman's candidacy for this important position, and earnestly urges his appointment by the authorities at Chicago, and that the secretary be instructed to submit copies of this resolution to Director-General Davis, of the World's Fair, and also the officers of the California World's Fair Association.

The subject of the spring exhibition was left to a committee of five with power to act. The meeting then adjourned to meet again March 23, when the subject under discussion will be "Rose Culture;" essay by C. E. Brydges. All interested are invited to be present.

THE FLORIDA SCALE.

The Pest Will Live in Southern California.

The argument made by the importers of Florida citrus trees that the purple, long and chaff scales will not live in this climate, has been exploded. Fruit Inspector Thos. Weiss, at the session of the County Horticultural Commissioners, yesterday morning, exhibited some twigs, leaves and fruit, taken from an orange grove just southwest of the city, that were well calculated to dispel all doubts. The fruit and leaves were densely covered with Florida purple scale; the fruit presents as bad an appearance as that infected with the Santa Ana type of red scale. The history of the tree from which this fruit was picked and the twigs were cut, is interesting as establishthe fact that this dreaded Florida pest is now thriving and propagating in this section. The tree has been here now four years. Originally it was shipped to Riverside, where it was subjected to a dipping in a wash, and remained there two years in the nursery rows. Then it was shipped to Los Angeles and planted. It has therefore been here four years, and if climatic influences had a tendency to eradicate the Florida pests, it would have now been clean. But it is covered with bugs.

The horticulturists are not a little alarmed over the announcement that a patent has been obtained on the hydrocyanic acid gas and its application to fruit trees to exterminate the pests, by parties in Orange county. It is said that a tax of 10 cents per tree, and $5 per 1000 trees in nursery, is to be levied for its use each year. Many growers claim that the patent is illegal, as fumigating has been practiced for years, and that, too, in the night under a black tent. Meetings have been called in Santa Ana to oppose this new tax upon the fruit-growers' receipts, and it is believed that the horticultural commissioners will resist the demands of the patentees.

A Free Pass.

[Billville Banner.]

There is nothing "free" about these railroad passes. Every time we ride on ours the conductor makes us clean the train lamps, and yesterday the engineer asked us to throw on wood. We are going to give up the newspaper business and apply for a position on the road. It will come cheaper.

All kinds of Chinese herbs and medicines for sale. The best accommodations for those desiring to remain at the Sanitarium for treatment. Everything under the personal supervision of Dr. Wong. Consultation absolutely free. The following are a few of the testimonials of patients cured by him:

Last winter I was a first-class candidate for a consumptive's grave. After I had the so-called best physicians in Los Angeles and they had failed to benefit me in the least, and when I had run down from 170 pounds weight to 147 pounds I took Dr. Wong's medicine and was completely cured in seven weeks' time. I now weigh 168 pounds and am in the best of health. B. C. PLATT,
Corner Twenty-third street and Grand avenue, Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 16, 1890

Four years ago my daughter, Virginia Bell, was treated by Dr. Wong for what eminent physicians called hip disease, and had pronounced incurable after treating her for seven or eight years. Dr. Wong's diagnosis was that she was afflicted with one of the thirteen forms of cancer. His medicine effected a permanent cure in seven months' time. Two years ago my grandson became blind in one eye. Dr. Wong restored his sight and the eye to a perfectly healthy condition in three weeks' time. A. LASSWELL,
Savannah, Cal., August 3d, 1890.

For seven months I was treated by five different doctors, none of whom stated what my disease was. During that time I suffered terribly and continued to fail until I became a skeleton. For the last three months I had to be dressed, fed and have my water drawn; finally my feet, limbs, hands and face became swollen. I could not rise from a chair and could scarcely walk, and was obliged to have my water drawn from fifteen to twenty times a day. My friends considered I would not last many days. I then—three months ago—commenced treating with Dr. Wong. The first dose of medicine completely relieved me, and since, I have not been obliged to resort to artificial means for relieving my bladder. In 5 days I was able to dress and feed myself, in 10 days the swelling had left me and I could walk as well as for years before. I now weigh as much as I ever did and feel better than I have felt for 15 years. I am 71 years old and feel tip top. Dr. Wong says I was afflicted with one of the 14 kinds of kidney diseases. W. W. CHENEY, Rivera, Cal., August 25, 1890.

For nearly one year I was treated by the most noted physicians of New York City, to whom I paid $25 per day for medical advice. They failed to prevent me from running down, finally these physicians told my friends that my case was incurable, and that I could not possibly live one year as I was in the last stages of consumption. Dr. Wong cured me in four months' time, and I am as well as any man in the world, and have worked hard for two years time. C. HASS, Forman in Spreckles' Sugar Refinery,
November 4, 1890. San Francisco, Cal.

After I had suffered severely from blood poisoning, and had failed to get relief from other doctors, I took medicine from Dr. Wong and was completely cured in two months' time. I consider Dr. Wong the most able physician that I have ever known in forty years' observation and experience. I. D. STEELE, 259 S. Main st.

STERLING EXCHANGE — Quiet, steady; 60-day bills, 4.85¼; demand, 4.88¼.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The stock market today was dull and narrow. The final trading was marked by more strength than on any previous time of day and the close was dull and firm to strong, generally at fractional advances. Government bonds were firm.

Orange Land and Orange Trees

—ON FIVE YEARS' TIME.—

The very best Orange Land in the market, with pure Mountain Water piped to each subdivision, together with first-class orange trees, budded to Washington Navel, Malta Blood and Mediterranean Sweets are now offered on 5 or 6 years' time. The land is rated from $200 to $300 per acre: trees, $1 each, native stock. Only 20 per cent cash down required. NO FURTHER PAYMENT FOR 5 YEARS; interest only 7 per cent. What could show more confidence in the land, trees, water and climate than this?

The land is at MENTONE, adjoining REDLANDS and CRAFTON. The oldest orange groves in the country adjoin it. The olives, strawberry guavas, prunes, peaches and apricots grown at MENTONE, have the same superior flavor that the orange has at that altitude, and the trees produce the largest crops of any on account of being away from the course of the north winds.

Office: No. 261-2 E. Colorado Street.

WEDNESDAY'S BUDGET.

Pasadena's Exhibit at the Citrus Fair.

A RAILROAD ONE YEAR OLD.

Mr. Scoville Will Build Another Dam—Points About People You Know—Brevities at Wholesale.

The citrus fair is in full swing. Pasadena is well represented, and what is wanted now is that every citizen and visitor now in town visit Los Angeles and see the wonderful display of fruits at the pavilion.

The local exhibit will prove a revelation to such as have never inquired into the possibilities of our land from a fruit-raising standpoint. As one man expressed it: "Pasadena has as fine fruit on exhibition as there is in the pavilion, and it was grown without fertilization. Bless my soul, if we would irrigate and fertilize as they do down at Redlands, the oranges would grow so big we couldn't harvest them." This is the proper spirit. The committees have done their work faithfully and well. If anybody in Pasadena don't believe it let them see for themselves. It means a $10,000 advertisement for the town, for the fame of the exhibit will travel far and wide. Now let outsiders interest themselves by visiting the fair and assist the committees in showing strangers the resources of the Crown of the Valley.

ONE YEAR AGO.

The Terminal Road has Been a Success.

One year ago today the Terminal road was formally opened into Pasadena. The important event will long be remembered. The town was in gala attire. Hundreds of visitors were present, and after the arrival of the trains from Los Angeles a mammoth procession was formed and moved to Sportsman's Park, where the afternoon was occupied by a series of most interesting sports. The event came to a fitting close by a banquet at Hotel Webster, complimentary to Capt. Cross, at which a distinguished company of guests were present.

And now that a year has rolled by the expectations centered on the new road have been fully realized. The little line has been a success. The wishes of the public have generally been catered to. The privilege of hourly communication with Los Angeles at certainly not exorbitant fares is probably too seldom appreciated. The road, especially under the new management's control, has been progressive, and the signs now positively point to the fact that it will soon be a part of a new and direct line to the sea, to say nothing about the possibility of being the western terminus of another trunk line, the result of which would be vastly beneficial to Pasadena.

The only cloud on the sky is the question now pending before the railroad commission and which it is hoped that body will adjust satisfactorily to all parties. The road has come to stay; may its second year be more prosperous than the first.

WILL HOLD WATER.

Mr. Scoville will Build Another and Stronger Dam.

When the dam, erected by J. W. Scoville in the arroyo was washed away for the second time by the flood about a month ago, it was predicted in these columns that another and stronger one would be built.

And this is exactly what is going to be done. Yestesday Mr. Scoville said the February rains had shown up the weak points in the old dam and he was rather glad that it had been washed away, for now he knew how to build one strong enough to stay. The site of the new dam will be a short distance south of where the remains of the old one stand, just where the foot bridge, which was washed away, spanned the stream. Mr. Scoville has perfected a plan for backing up the water so as to leave him dry ground to lay the foundation. The base of the new dam will therefore be laid several feet below the sand, and the entire structure will be built in a manner so substantial as to make another washout almost an impossibility. Ths work will be carried on vigorously during the summer and the dam will be in readiness for next winter's storms. The park is meanwhile being all the time improved.

AN EVENING'S PLEASURE.

Free to All Who Come—Music and Sociability.

The ladies of the Methodist Church will give a social this evening at the church, to which everybody is cordially invited. No admission fee will be charged. The following programme will be rendered, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock, to be followed by a social good time:

Prayer.
Singing—Congregation.
Select reading—Mrs. H. Griffith.
Male quartette—"Day Slowly Declining." (Weber.) Messrs. Johnson, Smith, White and Parker.
Address—Rev. J. W. Phelps.
Vocal solo—"The New Kingdom," Miss C. M. Foss.
Vocal duet—"By-lo Land," Misses Edna Holbrook and Alice Johnston.
Instrumental selection—Mrs. J. W. Sedwick.

BREVITIES.

The sprinkling carts are again in operation.

There is considerable demand for bicycles in town.

A german was danced at the Raymond last night.

The overland drifts in nowadays at almost any hour.

The Hotel Green tennis court is now in active operation.

A concert is to be given at Hotel Green Saturday night.

The lady musicians in the Heywood band captured the populace.

A. Gibbs's property on East Colorado street is a model of neatness.

The skating rink is in full blast. Everything is running smoothly.

To M. H. Weight is due much of the success of the Pasadena exhibit at the citrus fair.

The gutters on Broadway, north of California street, are in a deplorable condition.

Epicures and persons in need of aprons will do well to remember the supper and apron festival at the Universalist Church this afternoon and evening.

J. H. Painter rested well Tuesday night. Yesterday his condition was somewhat improved.

Col. Green is fencing in the enclosure for his new park on Raymond avenue, opposite Hotel Green.

Principal Graham of the Wilson school read a paper on "Physics" yesterday before the county institute.

Since Cal Hartwell hit him in that sparring match on Tuesday, H. Edwards Pratt is not as handsome as he used to be.

The Painter Hotel has enjoyed an unusually prosperous season. At present there is hardly a vacant room in the house.

Rev. G. A. Ottman is packing up his goods and chattels prior to his early departure for his new pastorate at Portland, Me.

The clouds were overcast all day yesterday and in the evening rain began to fall, with all the symptoms of a big downpour.

J. W. Scoville received a cablegram a day or so ago, announcing the safe arrival of his son and the Hurlbut party at Colombo, Ceylon.

H. J. Stewart of the First National Bank, left yesterday afternoon for Indianapolis, where his father is soon to undergo a dangerous surgical operation. The time of his return will depend upon the result.

The Terminal road is having built six large locomotives. Business has increased rapidly of late. Part of the patronage is due to the uniform courtesy extended passengers by everybody connected with the road.

Don't forget that the flowers at the citrus fair need to be renewed every day. Let the contributions be correspondingly liberal. Flowers will be received each morning at the Board of Trade rooms, First National Bank building.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a sociable at Mrs. H. G. Bennett's, on Orange Grove avenue, this evening. A musical and literary programme will be given and refreshments served. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged.

Miss Helen Brierer, one of the leading physiculturists of the country, will lecture next Tuesday evening in Williams Hall on "Good Health and a Clear Complexion," for the benefit of the organ fund of All Saints' Episcopal Church. The speaker comes highly recommended, and her lecture will contain many valuable suggestions, besides being interesting.

The Heywood Concert Company's band gave a concert yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Green park. The band comprised the entire company, consisting of five men and three ladies, all of whom played their respective instruments with considerable skill. At night the company appeared at the Opera House and gave a very creditable performance before an audience, which might have been larger.

Late arrivals at the Hotel Green are: F. L. Hanna, W. S. Porter, Frank Rademasher, R. B. Girdwood, Los Angeles; Henry Pratt and wife, Miss Ethel Pratt, Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. P. Merrill, Kansas City; James Phelan, F. T. Howe, C. H. Woolcott, San Francisco; J. G. Fleishman, Topeka; R. E. Cogan and wife, Newark, N. J.; George H. Heartt, Rochester, N. Y.; Frank Le Brou, Keokuk, Iowa; Fred Wheeler, Los Angeles; A. P. Jacobs, C. H. Patchett, San Francisco, and the Alva Heywood Concert Company.

A Ton In Ventura.

[Ventura Free Press.]

A San José citizen recently bought a ton of hay from a local dealer and found that it weighed but 1500 pounds. The gentleman at once brought suit against the dealer for 500 pounds of hay additional. In the trial of the suit the fact was developed that a San José ton calls for 1500 pounds and no more, that such has been the custom from time immemorial. Like in all things, San José trade is run upon a narrowguage basis. The plaintiff recovered the value of the short hay.

JOSEPH FRANCIS.

Ninetieth Birthday of a Great American Inventor.

Today is the ninetieth anniversary of the birth of Joseph Francis, the eminent American inventor and framer of the means for the "life-saving service" of the country. Mr. Francis was born in Boston, Mass., March 12, 1801, and from his earliest boyhood was devoted to boat-building. But his greatest achievements have been in the construction of life-boats, for which he gained world-wide fame, and has been decorated by rulers of almost every civilized country on the globe. He commenced with experiments on wooden life-boats, which culminated in the invention of the corrugated metallic life-car, in 1845, since which time numerous other inventions have followed.

Mr. Francis will receive his crowning honor today, when President Harrison will present to him the magnificent gold medal voted him by a special act of Congress. The following is a description of the medal which has cost $6000:

The obverse contains a portrait of Joseph Francis, surrounded by thirty-eight stars and the following inscription: "The United States of America by act of Congress, August 27, 1888, to Joseph Francis, inventor and framer of the means for the 'life saving service' of the country." The reverse is as follows: A scene representing a ship in distress; a heavy sea is running and dashing over the deck; in the rigging figures are seen clinging; on the storm-beaten shore the life-saving crew are in full view of the light house and star of fame in the distance; they have the metallic life-boat on wheels ready to run out as soon as needed; to the right of the boat are seen three sturdy men with the mortar and metallic life car; they have already shot the line to the ship, and have made fast, and are hauling the life saving car. This scene is encircled by a row of beads on the minor circle, then an oak-leaf wreath, and the outer circle is an "egg and tongue" border.

THE COURTS.

But Little Business Disposed of in the Superior Court.

In the Superior Court yesterday no important business was disposed of. In three departments no sessions of court were held. In Department One Judge Smith took a vacation, as did also Judge Shaw in Department Six. Judge Van Dyke is still ill.

In Department Three yesterday, John F. Ward was adjudged insane, and committed to Stockton. He was a religious enthusiast.

In Department Five the case of Kimball against Clements was disposed of. A judgment was awarded the plaintiff. It was a suit to recover certain property attached by the defendant as a constable.

Victor Soldena was examined yesterday before United States Commissioner Owens on a charge of cutting timber on Government land in the Los Virgines district. Owing to the insufficiency of the evidence he was discharged. His examination on charge of obstructing a settlement on Government land was then commenced but not concluded. It will be resumed Saturday. The examination of Jesus Soldena on the same charge will also be held Saturday.

John H. Stewart sued Thomas A. Lewis and others for $1500 due on a promisory note. This was the only new suit filed with the County Clerk yesterday.

In Department Two yesterday, in the case of Ball against Lewis, a $4500 foreclosure suit, judgment was given the plaintiff.

A new roll of attorneys is being prepared by the County Clerk. Attorneys are requested to call and sign.

A DOCTOR'S REBUKE.

Immensely More Mischief than is Generally Suspected.

Dr. King, the eminent medical writer, in a learned disquisition on our national complaint, constipation, says:—

The great quantity of cathartic pills, etc., which are annually swallowed by the people of this country has been productive of immensely more mischief than is generally suspected. True, the physic unloads the bowels, but in so doing its action tends to diminish the tone of the intestines; so that, instead of removing the costiveness, it aggravates it, leaving the bowels in a more torpid condition.

Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was designed to fill just such a contingency as the doctor's arraignment anticipates, viz.: instead of being a powerful mineral purgative, it is a mild vegetable laxative, that, owing to its solvent and gentle stimulating properties, is so certain a relief in constipation that it has been given away to hundreds, not to be paid for unless it was of positive benefit. It replaces constipation almost immediately with a natural easy habit, and is so mild that, unlike drastic purgatives, it can be taken indefinitely with perfect freedom and safety.

A NEW SYSTEM.

Diseases and Their Treatment by Electricity.

While averse to drawing the attention of our readers to any advertisement in our columns which partakes of a medical character, we feel more than justified in over-riding this objection with respect to the announcement in this issue of the electro-magnetic system as practiced by Drs. Darrin.

Their theory of treatment consists of an improved system of local electro-magnetic applications, which is so immeasurably superior to the prevalent method of stomach drugging as to commend itself at once to the favor of sufferers.

No better evicence of the thorough efficacy of this treatment can be cited than in the case of Mr. James Thorndike of this city, who has expressed his willingness to vouch in every respect for the marvelous effects it accomplished in his case, as the following card will show:

MR. EDITOR: Dear Sir—One month ago I arrived here from Blair, Nebraska. I was so helpless from the effects of rheumatism that I had to be carried into Dr. Darrin's office. After a month's treatment by electricity, as given by Dr. Darrin, I am now able to walk the streets, and can be referred to.

Many other cases might be published did not the want of space here forbid.

TO THE PUBLIC!

I take this opportunity of highly recommending Dr. Wong Him's abilities as a physician to all who have any diseases, especially those whose complaints resist the treatment of other physicians.

For two months I suffered from impure blood and disordered stomach, together with a sore lip which failed to heal, and was finally persuaded to call and see Dr. Wong Him at his office, 639 Upper Main st. I had a consultation, and after an examination of my pulse he gave me a powder for my lips and medicine internally, and said he would cure me in one week or ten days and at the expiration of said time declined to give me any more medicine because I was cured, which statement I fully endorse, for I have not been so well for a long time. CONSUMPTION
—CAN BE CURED—
This is being verified every week by those who are using the AERIAN SYSTEM of practice, consisting of Medicated Inhalations and Compound Oxygen, as prescribed by
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.
M. C. P. S. O.,
137 S. Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal.,
This is the system of practice which is now attracting the attention of the best physicians throughout every country in the civilized world, and truly wonderful are the results obtained after all other means have failed in accomplishing any good whatever.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold. Indeed, he declares he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head or throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts he will "by and by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

The Aerean system of practice is applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but the remedies must be prepared for each individual case as it requires.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally can write for a list of questions and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address

Vienna Bakery.

"Let me have men around me that are fat,
Sleek-headed men, and such as sleep o'nights,
Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look.
He thinks too much; such men are dangerous." —Shakespeare.

IF YOU WILL DROP INTO THE VIENNA BAKERY
During any hour of the day,

You will find its patrons are all well-dressed, well-fed appearing men and women. You will see them depart after enjoying a good meal, each wearing a satisfied appearance on their countenances.

"Where do you find the lean and hungry Cassius?
Men that think too much; men that are dangerous—"

You will find them conducting two-bit hash foundries; places where victuals are served and reserved; hashed and rehashed; where the leavings of one man form the basis of another's meal; where the lean and hungry Cassius thinks and ponders hard to rehash the remains of a meal in order to make both ends meet and keep his head above the waves of financial ruin always ready to engulf him.

Do you want to be introduced into the kitchen of a 25-cent restaurant and learn its secret concoctions of detestable food, that is dished up daily to its patrons? If you do, read this carefully:

ACT I. SCENE FIRST.

TIME, the present day. SCENE, interior of the kitchen of a two-bit hash foundry.

PROPRIETOR to COOK—"Well, how are the leavings today?"

COOK—"Glorious! Never had such a run of luck. Our patrons must have the indigestion; half the meals we have served today noon have come back half finished."

PROP.—"Glorious! Now for hash, stews, pot pies, potatoes in all styles and a new change in our bill of fare."

(Chinese dishwasher passes carrying several plates of food towards the swill barrel.)

PROP. (angrily)—"Here, John, where are you going? What are you doing with that grub?"

CHINAMAN—"Washee matter boss?" Tlow him in swill barrel; 'gee oh!' him no good; no make rat soup for Chinamen: 'gee oh!' wha for—"

PROP.—"Never mind; that will make a good stew; give it to the cook. What do you take this for? A French restaurant? Great heavens! No wonder such waste knocks a hole in the profits—" * * * * *

This is a realistic picture of the usual two-bit restaurant. It is the only way a meal can be served in those places, and they are run on the principle that "where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise," as far as the customer is concerned.

You are all welcome to visit
The kitchen of the Vienna Bakery.

You will find everything clean and neat, and none but white help employed. When a meal is served its remains are thrown away. It has been paid for, the profits have been made and that ends it.

CHINO RANCH AND CHINO.

The Site of the Largest Beet Sugar Factory in the United States and the United States Experiment Station.

THE Rancho Land extends to the borders of Pomona and Ontario—places noted for fruit culture, beauty, etc. Much of it is naturally moist and will produce alfalfa, corn, etc., without irrigation. The best artesian water is provided for deciduous and citrus fruit land and underlies many thousands of acres. Excellent well water is abundant on many square miles at from 8 to 25 feet deep. Thousands of acres of CHOICE ORANGE LAND with the best artesian water for irrigation.

It is proven choice sugar beet land. The Oxnard Beet Sugar Company is now constructing here the Largest Beet and Sugar Factory in the United States,

And will complete it next August, so as to work up the crop of this year. The sugar will be refined in Chino ready for market.

Farmers are rapidly entering into contracts to grow beets because of the certainty of the crop and sure cash market at home on delivery to the factory in a few months after planting. The crop needs no housing, sacking, boxing or holding for market. With right tillage, the yield is large and profits sure. Wherever in Europe or the United States this industry has been established, land has quadrupled in value and the people greatly prospered. Expenses can be made while growing an orchard to bearing, by cultivating sugar beets between the rows, as proven at Watsonville.

Lands rented to beet growers for cash or share of the crop. Seed furnished at cost on trust till sale of beets; use of seed drills free; special implements at cost; experienced sugar beet farmer on the ground to freely give correct instructions.
